NO. 276—SIXTY-THIRD YEAR

VICTORIA, BRITISH COLUMBIA, FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 4, 1921

HOUSE TAKES UP GOVERNMENT AID FOR EMIGRATION

Discussion Arises on Colonial Office Vote to Promote Overseas Settlement—Mr. Clynes Expresses Labor View in Favor of Empire Development Through State Assistance.

UNDER-SECRETARY WOOD REFERS TO IMPERIAL CONFERENCE PLAN

LONDON, Nov. 3.—An earnest and interesting discussion on emigration occurred today in the House of Commons on the Colonial Office vote in aid of overseas settlement.

The feature of the debate was the speech of the leader of the Labor party, Rt. Hon. J. R. Clynes, who said that Great Britain was far too dependent upon countries outside the Empire for foods.

"It would be all to the good," he said, "if we could use even more fully the lands of Australia and Canada and other great territories within the Empire."

Mr. Clynes favored supervision of and state assistance for emigration and immigration, so that labor could move about as circumstances required, and conditions for mutual welfare be established which would remove the suspicion and opposition of those against emigration. He asked what was the use of having great territories world-wide if they were not used. Otherwise, they aroused political differences with those who wanted to use what was being left undeveloped.

Encouragement Given
Hon. Edward F. Wood, Permanent Under-Secretary of State for the Colonies, replied that close attention was being paid to encouraging emigration of a due proportion of women and men. He pointed out that the present estimate of £300,000, which some complained was too small, was supplementary to the original estimate of £450,000. He hoped that the Government would be able to propose a very much larger sum after considering how best they could implement the proposals and decisions of the last Imperial Conference. The conference, he said, suggested that Great Britain should contribute after 1922 a maximum of £2,000,000 annually, equally divided between the Empire and the Colonies, and in land settlement, the latter to be in the form of advance loans.

Mr. Wood expressed the opinion that the importance of the Imperial Conference lay in the fact that it emphasized the problem of settlement, which could not be properly treated by spasmodic measures, but was one demanding the continuous attention of the British and overseas governments.

Co-operation Essential
Mr. Wood added that the problem was only soluble by permanent co-operation between Great Britain and the Dominions. He pointed out that the Empire settlement could never be a remedy for unemployment. Practically the whole migration was directed toward land settlement, which, however, developed employment. He welcomed Mr. Clynes' speech and endorsed the latter's hope that the time was not far distant when it would be possible to consider moving on to Australia and New Zealand with somewhat the same ease as a man now seeks employment in the English colonies and the Dominions, and that there had been lack of efficient organization in the past. He mentioned the bonus system of payments to third parties for recruiting emigrants which was carried on with the co-operation of the Dominions. This system, he said, was fast disappearing, and was being substituted by co-operation with the home government.

Mr. Wood laid stress on the fact that Empire settlement was not compulsory on overseas communities, saying "it is an optional policy, and optional it always will remain."

In support of the assertion that there was no question of dumping unemployed people on any of the Dominions unwilling to receive them, Mr. Wood mentioned that the overseas settlement committee accepted about only one-third of the applications for passage as a result of a plan of judicious selection. If the policy was to bear full fruit, the cordial co-operation of organized labor was necessary, and he indicated that the official labor element on the settlement committee would be strengthened. The vote was agreed to.

VICTORIA IS LAGGING BEHIND OTHER CITIES

"Reports reaching Ottawa say Victoria electorate is very slow in registering."
"This is not the case in other parts, as voters are very anxious to exercise their franchise."
"Make every effort to register every voter that is eligible, irrespective of political affiliation."
"Our Government wants all the electorate to express their views by ballot on election day."

"S. F. TOLMIE."

Text of telegram received yesterday from Hon. S. F. Tolmie, Minister of Agriculture, at Ottawa, by the National Liberal and Conservative Association.

MR. CRERAR BELIEVES IN LIBERAL PENSIONS

AMHERST, N.S., Nov. 3.—"There must be no economy in the pensions to our returned men," declared Hon. T. A. Crerar, leader of the Progressive party, at a meeting here today, which concluded his Maritime Province campaign.

Mr. Crerar said he had preached national economy from one end of the country to the other and would continue to preach it, because he believed the Canadian people were not yet seized with the "gravity of the financial situation."

The Progressive leader had not much sympathy with those who cavilled at the public debt, which was a result of the war. But the pensions to the returned men must not be interfered with, he said.

Mr. Crerar argued that the crying need was economy in every department of public expenditure. "We have about reached the limit of taxation," he said. "We cannot go on taxing, taxing, taxing. When we get down to the point of imposing a sales tax in Canada we are in a pretty bad way."

ASKS EVACUATION OF WATERING PLACES

PARIS, Nov. 3.—Germany has asked the Allied Powers to evacuate watering places such as Wiesbaden in the occupied territory, asserting that the presence of troops is an annoyance to visitors and diminishes the season's receipts.

This, with other recent points raised, is interpreted in French official circles as part of a plan by the Germans to set forth systematically the various difficulties encountered in their efforts to pay the reparations as arranged.

PREMIER ENDS ADDRESS DEBATE

Forensic Effort Extending Over Three Weeks Brought to Conclusion by Attack Upon Leader of Opposition

Doubtless having in mind the current gossip of alleged wrongdoing on the part of certain members of the Government side, and asserting his conviction that if any members of the House, on his responsibility as such, will rise in his place and make charges, sue would be investigated. Premier Oliver being presented yesterday declared he was ready to have such charges proved to the bottom. But he made it clear that under no circumstances would he admit of a charge being presented without proof. Whether it might be a colleague of his own or a member of the House he demanded that the proof of wrongdoing be forthcoming. He appealed for fair play, declaring that under the old British system a man is innocent until he is proved guilty, and he insisted that that principle should be recognized.

Premier Oliver closed the debate, which has been in progress since the session opened. He made a general denial of the Opposition charges, and most of his effort was a personal onslaught upon the leader of the Conservative opposition.

When he concluded his speech the Premier showed signs of physical stress, and his voice was husky as he continued on Page 13.

TEN THOUSAND IS CITY OBJECTIVE

Funds, Not Clothing, Is Immediate Requirement of Flood Victims—Committee Will Canvass Downtown Section

With $10,000 as their objective, a Chamber of Commerce committee headed by Messrs. E. W. McMullen, Christian Stevens and Harold A. Beckwith, will scour Victoria's downtown section for funds to relieve distress in the flooded areas of the British Columbia mainland.

One hundred and forty-one dollars was collected yesterday through the newspapers by voluntary subscription. The lists will remain open for several days, but the committee wants to be able to wind up its campaign within a week, as there is an immediate demand for as much money as can be secured.

"Concentrate on getting money," wired Mr. B. A. McKelvie, secretary of the Central Relief Organization, from Vancouver. "Money is needed now. We will have to raise altogether about $75,000, and within a week. Clothing is not required yet."

The Vancouver City Council has appropriated $5,000 for the relief fund. The Provincial Government will donate $10,000, according to the announcement by Premier Oliver. Mayor Robert J. Porter has promised the local committee to bring the matter before the City Council at its next meeting.

Investigators are still collecting information regarding the needs of the flood sufferers and will keep in touch with the Chamber of Commerce here. The various island boards of trade have been asked to assist.

RENEWALS ATTACK ON LIQUOR LAW

Chief Inspector Maclean, of Manitoba, Repeats Statements at Regina of Abuses in British Columbia

CORRECTS ERROR REGARDING AMOUNT

Only 4,000 Cases Now Mentioned as Being Imported for "Bootlegging"—Assertion of U.S. Representatives

REGINA, Nov. 3.—The statements respecting the misuse of liquor in British Columbia and the prevalence of bootlegging in that Province, made at yesterday's conference of American and Canadian liquor enforcement officials here were reaffirmed here tonight by J. N. Maclean, of Winnipeg, chief liquor inspector for Manitoba. Mr. Maclean said, however, that the statement that 400,000 cases had been shipped into British Columbia for illicit traffic since the British Columbia Government assumed control of liquor in that Province was in error, and that the amount should have been 4,000.

When shown statements made in reply by Col. E. N. Winby, of the British Columbia Liquor Control Board, and Hon. J. W. deB. Farris, Attorney-General for British Columbia, Mr. Maclean said that Colonel Winby had touched the point exactly when he stated that the British Columbia Liquor Board did not assume complete control. "They cannot prohibit importation," he said, "but they are doing it in the Prairie Provinces."

"The fact remains," said Mr. Maclean, "that liquor is going into British Columbia for illicit purposes in large quantities. There are liquor warehouses in British Columbia which can sell legally in that Province, but there is no doubt it is leaking out, as is the case elsewhere where liquor warehouses are established."

WIRELESS STATION ON LULU ISLAND SHORE

VANCOUVER, Nov. 3.—A new wireless station will be erected on the west shore of Lulu Island by the Dominion Government. Information reaching the city today, when Hon. E. J. DeBarra, Deputy Minister of Naval Service, visited the island, indicated that the Government had purchased a certain parcel. It is believed that these are now being bought by the Government.

It is understood that a high power wireless station is to be erected there in the near future. This station will take care of the commercial needs of Vancouver, leaving the Point Grey plant free to attend to transportation and shipping. Whether or not other stations will be necessary along the coast to work with the new one is not known. Further announcement concerning the erection and operation of the new station is expected shortly.

PREMIER EXPLAINS DELEGATES' POSITION

LONDON, Nov. 3.—Mr. Lloyd George was asked in the House of Commons today whether resolutions adopted at the Washington conference would require parliamentary sanction in each country represented, or whether the delegates would possess plenipotentiary powers. To this he replied:

"I am not in a position to answer the first part of the question, pending the outcome of the conference. The British delegates will be furnished with the usual full powers."

Martial Law Suspended

LISBON, Nov. 3.—The state of martial law, which has been in force since the recent revolutionary activities, was raised today.

PREMIER HAS USUAL AUDIENCE WITH KING ON LATTER'S RETURN

RUSSIAN CONCESSION TO AMERICAN CONCERN

RIGA, Nov. 3.—Negotiations have been concluded between the Soviet Government of Russia and an American company by which the company has obtained a concession for mining asbestos in the Ural Mountains, according to a Moscow dispatch. The concession is to run twenty-five years. The dispatch said the announcement of the granting of the concession, the first to an American company, was given out by Ludwig Martens, who is a member of the All-Russian central executive committee, through which the negotiations were carried out.

RETURNS BETTER BUT STILL SMALL

With Only Two Days Left, Barely One-Seventh of the Eligible Vote Has Registered for Federal Election

With ward organizations of both parties concentrating their attention on getting voters to the registration booths, yesterday's returns showed a substantial increase, although the total, if an indication of results to be gained during the rest of the week, means that the objective will be lost by a wide margin.

With only two days remaining in which to register the 7,000 eligible voters not on the list when registration commenced, only about 1,500 have so far signed the list.

Yesterday, 444 persons registered, an increase of more than 50 per cent over the previous day's returns. The polling divisions reported as follows:

Ward One, twenty-five women and fifty men; Ward Two, thirty-nine women and fifty-nine men; Ward Three, sixty-four women and fifty-six men; Ward Four, forty-nine women and thirty-four men; Ward Five, sixty-seven women and forty-three men. Total, 244 women and 242 men.

"We are doing our best to arouse people to their duty in this election," declared Mr. W. C. Winkel, secretary of the National Liberal and Conservative Association. "A big vote means more than mere people's opinion. Irradiation of party consideration, the prestige and influence of our members at Ottawa will be largely determined by the vote which they represent in their constituency. Better and cleaner politics can only be arrived at by the full expression of public opinion at the polls, and we feel that the member who represents this city either at Ottawa or in Victoria should be reinforced with the confidence that he represents the majority of the whole rather than the minority."

The list of registration booths established for the Nanaimo riding in the southern districts was announced yesterday as follows:

Oak Bay—W. L. Parrier, 2324 Chaucer Street.
Requiem Township—W. J. Cave, 8111-12 Street.
Rasbach being a rural district, the registrars will make up the list and post it up in public places November 11. If there is a poll the rural registrars will sit and delete or add new names as required. There is no special provision for the registration of those already appointed being: Ward Two, William Graham; Ward Four, William Bradley; Ward Five, W. Jackson; C. H. Price, returning officer for Nanaimo, is now making the appointments for Wards One, Three, Six and Seven.

Cowichan Electoral District (Rural)
Chesnut—H. E. Donald.
Clo-Oose—A. G. Cox.
Cobbie Hill—A. Nightingale.
Cowichan Lake—W. Swinerton.
Cowichan Station—V. H. Wilson.
Crofton—E. C. Hawkins.
Duncan—J. Henalowe.
Shawnigan Lake—N. End—S. J. Head.
Somerset—A. J. Bailey.

Is Supposed to Have Reported to His Majesty on Irish Negotiations—Expected to Speak at Lord Mayor's Banquet—No Meeting of Conference or Its Committee

ULSTER PREMIER TO BE PRESENT

Sir James to State Attitude of His Government on Ulster Boundary and Other Questions—Sinn Feiners Are Released Unconditionally From Internment Camp

LONDON, Nov. 3.—The Prime Minister had an audience with the King at Buckingham Palace this evening. This was not due to Irish developments, but followed the customary practice that the Prime Minister see the King on his return from Sandringham. It is believed that Mr. Lloyd George reported to the King on the progress of the negotiations.

It is said that the Prime Minister has accepted an invitation to the Lord Mayor's banquet, where he will respond to the toast to His Majesty's Ministers, and probably will again refer to the Irish situation. It had been previously reported that Mr. Lloyd George would not be able to attend this banquet.

There was no meeting of either the full conference or the committee today, and no definite arrangements for the next meeting have been made.

Members of the Sinn Fein confirm the announcement that Sir James Craig, the Ulster Premier, is coming to London on the Government's invitation to consult with the ministers only, but they say that no mere technicalities will be allowed to prevent the Irish delegates from meeting Sir James, should it be so desired.

Sir James Accepts

LONDON, Nov. 3.—Sir James Craig, the Ulster Premier, has accepted the Government's invitation, dispatched yesterday, to come to London and consult it as to Ulster's attitude toward proposals regarding the Ulster boundary and other questions involved in the Irish settlement plans.

Interned Men Released

BELFAST, Nov. 3.—The Sinn Fein men who have been under internment in the Ballykinlar camp have been unconditionally released.

The Ballykinlar internment camp is located on Dunderm Bay, County Down, occupying the site originally used as a training camp for Ulster troops in the war, about 50 miles from Belfast. It was established November, 1919, and by Spring well on toward 3,000 men had been interned there, the number given early in May, when the camp was described as filled, being 1,751. No recent figures are available to show whether this number has been increased or diminished.

When newspaper correspondents visited the camp in May they described it as located in a dreary spot, but reported difficulty in obtaining statements from interned men regarding conditions there.

A Dublin dispatch Wednesday night announced the liberation of ten prisoners in the Ballykinlar camp, and added that while no reason was assigned for the release of the men, it was considered in Dublin as indicating that a general release was not distant, and their being liberated might be a part of a general peace agreement.

HARDSHIPS SUFFERED BY BRITISH SUBJECTS

LONDON, Nov. 3.—Alleged hardships suffered by British subjects at Ellis Island, New York, came up for brief consideration in the House of Commons today. Cecil Harcourt, Under-Secretary for Foreign Affairs, was asked to report on the matter.

He replied that judging by the distressing accounts received of the treatment of British subjects at Ellis Island, and the conditions under which they were compelled to live, the strongest complaints would be justified.

"Repeated representations made to the United States Government," he declared the Under-Secretary, "have, I regret to say, had no tangible results, but further negotiations are proceeding at the present moment, which I hope may lead to some permanent improvement."

ousting of Hapsburg PROVIDED FOR IN BILL

BUDAPEST, Nov. 3.—When Premier Bethlen today introduced in the assembly the bill calling for the de-throning of former King Charles and the ousting of the Hapsburg dynasty from Hungary, there were cheers for Charles by the legitimists.

The bill protests against interference of foreign powers in Hungary, provides for removal of the Hapsburgs from power, and calls for postponement for an indefinite period of the election of a new king of Hungary. The bill will come up for debate tomorrow.

Eight days of mourning for Hungary because of the country's humiliation through the escape of Charles has been ordered by the Minister of the Interior.

VETERANS WILL MEET TONIGHT

Trades Hall Will Be Scene of the First Mass Meeting of Amalgamated Body of Returned Men

The initial mass meeting of the amalgamated veterans' body will take place at eight o'clock tonight in the Trades Hall, Broad Street. As this gathering will be held to carry forward amalgamation as proposed at the "Fantasia Theatre" meeting on September 16, only ex-service men who have signed the amalgamation forms, or, if they have not joined the new body, are in favor of amalgamation, will be permitted to take part in the meeting.

The provisional ex-service amalgamation committee has arrived at the decision that definite action should now be taken to consummate amalgamation, and recommendations will be made to the meeting to that effect. A resolution that there shall be no titular officers of the body elected, but that the executive council shall consist of ten members, who shall appoint the chairman prior to each meeting, will be submitted at tonight's gathering.

The secretary of the committee stated at a recent meeting that 1,114 application forms had been signed, and that many more applications could be distributed if available at the various returned soldiers' clubs here. A great deal of interest is being taken in this first amalgamation meeting, and indications point to a capacity audience in the Trades Hall tonight.

A telegram has been received from Comrade H. Despard Twigg, who is a delegate on the amalgamation committee, and is at present attending the Dominion convention of the Army and Navy Veterans at Toronto. Mr. Twigg said that amalgamation was going rapidly ahead and he believed that the amalgamation of ex-service organizations would shortly be brought about.

A committee of the amalgamation committee, composed of Comrades Lincoln Smith and G. O. Allen, was appointed to arrange for a fitting observance of Armistice Day. It is proposed to conduct a brief service at 11 o'clock on November 11, at the Parliament Buildings. The committee hopes to have the Lieutenant-Governor, Premier Oliver, Cabinet Ministers and Mayor Porter present, when a silence of two minutes will be observed, followed by the firing of three volleys and the sounding of the "Last Post."

Pistol Wicked's Sentence

BRAMPTON, Ont., Nov. 3.—Ten years' imprisonment was the sentence dealt out to John May, who yesterday pleaded guilty at the Fall assizes to pointing a revolver with intent to kill. "This is a crime of so great a nature, and crimes of this character are so frequent throughout the country," said Judge Masten, "that the safety of the community is at stake, and it is very necessary to deal severely with them."

LIBERAL LEADER

Thursday, Nov. 10—Port Arthur.
Saturday, Nov. 12—Saskatoon.
Monday, Nov. 14—Edmonton.
Tuesday, Nov. 15—Calgary.
Thursday, Nov. 17—Victoria.
Friday, Nov. 18—Vancouver.
Saturday, Nov. 19—New Westminster.
Monday, Nov. 21—Moose Jaw.
Tuesday, Nov. 22—Regina.

A schedule of meetings including Winnipeg points in Northern Ontario, to be addressed by the Liberal leader on his way back to Ottawa, where he will arrive on Sunday, November 27, will be arranged and announced later, as also will be the schedule of meetings to be held at Eastern points during the last weeks of the campaign.

NELSON, Nov. 3.—The Farmer-Labor convention for the West Kootenay riding, meeting here, nominated Levi W. Humphrey, a Nelson locomotive engineer, as candidate, to contest the riding with Dr. W. O. Ross, of Nelson, National Liberal and Conservative, and J. H. Hamilton, of Revelstoke, Liberal. The convention was in session from 11 o'clock in the forenoon.

CALGARY, Nov. 3.—Disappointed with the nomination of David Warner, Farmer candidate in Strathcona riding, and with the refusal to cooperate with labor, the sitting member, Ernest Lapointe, Liberal leader, on Tuesday night nominated Rice Sheppard to contest the riding in behalf of Labor against Warner and James Douglas, the sitting member. Sheppard is an old-time official of the U. F. A., and his nomination against Warner, also a pioneer of the farmer movement, indicates the first real serious split which has occurred in the Farmer ranks. Labor has also placed S. A. G. Barnes as a candidate in West Edmonton.

VERNON, Nov. 3.—Col. C. E. Edgett has withdrawn his name as a possible candidate in the constituency of Yale.

QUEBEC, Nov. 3.—At the first Liberal rally held in this city since the opening of the federal election campaign, Ernest Lapointe, Liberal leader in this city, was last night nominated for East Quebec.

HAILESBURY, Ont., Nov. 3.—E. E. Sheppard, who was recently tendered the Conservative nomination for Temiskaming, finds that he will not be able to undertake the campaign, and he has resigned as candidate. Mr. Sheppard is a conductor on the T. & N. O. Railway, and the order of Premier Duggan barring civil servants from taking part in politics excluded him from being a candidate.

RICHMOND, Que., Nov. 3.—Hon. Walter Mitchell, provincial treasurer, will accept the nomination to run as a Liberal in the federal elections in the St. Antoine division of Montreal, he announced here yesterday.

WINNIPEG, Nov. 3.—E. D. Henry, Liberal candidate in Marquette, has withdrawn. This leaves Hon. T. A. Cregar, Progressive, and H. M. Dyer, Government, in the field.

EDMONTON, Nov. 3.—By unanimous choice, Hon. Frank Oliver, former Minister of the Interior, will be the Liberal candidate in West Edmonton. Mr. Oliver was nominated by Hon. Charles Stewart, ex-Premier of Alberta, his second being J.

DISCOUNT RATE
IS 5 PER CENTBank of England Makes Reduction Following Action of Federal Reserve Banks in United States

LONDON, Nov. 3.—The Bank of England reduced its rate of discount to 5 per cent from 5 1/2 per cent this morning. The last reduction in the discount rate was made on July 21 last, when it was cut from 6 to 5 1/2 per cent.

Today's reduction was due chiefly to yesterday's reduction in the federal reserve bank rate in New York. It was declared in financial circles today.

The advocates of cheaper money here have been agitating for the reduction of the bank rate from 5 1/2 per cent, which for a long time has been the only proportion to the money market rates, but the bank authorities, who invariably are conservative, have maintained that rate in view of the German financial outlook and the somewhat uncertain political situation here.

The Government financing, however, recently has been assisted by large subscriptions to treasury bonds, and large payments have been made by the Government to the Bank of England. Thus with the financial situation so improved in the United States, the bank authorities felt able to give the commercial interests here much-needed relief by a reduction, which is expected in financial circles to be followed shortly by a further reduction.

Fluctuations of the rate established by the Bank of England have been of great interest in financial circles of Canada, being indications of the financial situation in London. When the discount rate was cut on June 23 to 4 per cent, the news came unexpectedly, as a reduction had not been rumored, and all indications were that the 5 1/2 per cent rate would be maintained for some time.

When the war broke out in August, 1914, the rate was advanced to 10 per cent, the highest in the history of the bank, that point having been reached only upon two occasions, during the panics of 1857 and 1866. After a few days, however, it was reduced to 6 per cent, and later to 5 per cent. It remained at that point until about the middle of 1916, when it rose to 6 per cent, but it was lowered to 5 per cent in April, 1917. On November 5, 1919, it went to 4 per cent, where it remained until April 15, 1920, when it was advanced again to 7 per cent. On April 28 last, there was a reduction to 6 1/2 per cent, this being followed by reductions on June 23 and July 21.

Yesterday's dispatches from Washington carried an announcement by the United States Federal Reserve board that the discount rate of federal reserve banks in eight districts had been cut.

B. C. LIQUOR LAW
IS REFLECTED ONStatement Made at Conference in Regina That Great Quantities
Are Shipped Here for
"Bootlegging" Uses

REGINA, Nov. 3.—Governments on the Canadian and United States sides of the international boundary will be asked to implement one another's liquor laws, in order that rum running may be further curbed, it was decided at the convention of international prohibition officers.

The American Government will be asked not to grant any more permits for the shipment of liquor across the Canadian border, with the consent of the provincial authorities affected. On the other hand, the Canadian Government will be asked not to release liquor from bond to be shipped across to the American side, where it can be sold illegally.

One of the features of the session was the statement that Government control of liquor in British Columbia had not curtailed the bootlegging industry in that province, the statement being made that 400,000 cases of liquor had been shipped in to the coast province from Saskatchewan liquor warehouses since the Government of that province had assumed control of the business, and that this liquor was being used for shipment into the States and to supply the bootlegging industry in other Canadian provinces.

More liquor, it was stated, had gone into British Columbia for illicit purposes since the Government control had been adopted in that province than went into Manitoba and Alberta during the period of inter-provincial trading.

DAY OF DOLLAR WHEAT
RETURNS AT CHICAGO

CHICAGO, Nov. 3.—What long ago used to be considered normalcy was reached today on the Chicago board of trade—when at 11 a bushel. The December delivery fell to that price, the lowest since 1915.

Absence of demand rather than any unusual selling pressure characterized today's market. The dollar a bushel price led to comparisons with more than double that figure reached during the great war, and also was a reminder that the market for May delivery was down to 84 1/2 cents a bushel in 1914 and to 83 1/2 cents in 1911.

Before trading was ended December wheat declined a full cent more, and closed at the bottom figure of the session, 99 cents a bushel to 99 1/4, a loss of 2 1/4 to 3 1/4 cents compared with 24 hours before. December corn closed at 44 to 44 1/4, the lowest level touched in the last eleven years.

Sugar Price Gave Down
VANCOUVER, Nov. 3.—A reduction of 25 cents per 100 pounds in the price of sugar is announced here. It is now quoted at $7.25.

DOUBT'S FIGURES OF MR. CRERAR

"Heckler" Appears at Progressive Leader's Meeting in Charlottetown—Denies Understanding With Liberals

CHARLOTTETOWN, P.E.I., Nov. 3.—A heckler made his appearance when Hon. T. A. Crerar, leader of the National Progressive Party, spoke in Charlottetown last night, closing his Prince Edward Island campaign. Mr. Crerar had been outlining his fiscal views. He had said that 150,000 Canadians had emigrated to the United States within the last ten years, when a voice sharply called from the rear of the hall:

"That's wrong; tell the truth, Mr. Crerar; tell the truth."

"What I am saying is correct," Mr. Crerar sharply replied. He continued that the census returns would show that Canada had now only a population of 5,000,000.

"You don't know yet," the heckler again interposed. "That's your story."

"It is not my story," warmly rejoined Mr. Crerar. "I have made the statement before and challenged Mr. Meighen to deny it, but he has not done so; and I do not make statements I cannot back up. The returns given by our Immigration Department do not show that many persons have left Canada, but the United States figures show that within the last ten years 750,000 persons left Canada for the United States."

At this there was an outburst of cheering. "Well, what did they go for? Did they go for free trade?" the heckler questioned.

Mr. Crerar: "If you want to discuss these questions I shall be very glad to have you come on the platform; but I will tell you one reason why they went. They went because we have had a fiscal policy that prevented prosperity in this country."

The heckler: "What did they have in the United States?" What policy built up the United States?"

By this time a considerable hubbub had developed and there were shouts from the body of the hall that the heckler should "shut up."

"My friend should not get excited," Mr. Crerar remarked when the hubbub had died down somewhat. "He has made reference to the fact that the United States had a tariff for many years. But I would remind him that the United States is the largest single free trade area in the world. I would ask him to use his reason and not his imagination."

Charges that the Western Grain Growers were combining to hold up the Eastern farmer were termed by Mr. Crerar as "speculations of an imaginative mind totally unacquainted with actual facts."

Mr. Crerar referred to further newspaper reports of a secret understanding between himself and Hon. Mackenzie King, leader of the Liberal party.

"I have a personal experience of the so-called understanding in that a Liberal is running against me in my own constituency, as well as a Government candidate. Nor do I think Mr. King has any illusions about a secret understanding. He is himself being opposed in his own constituency by Mr. Burnaby, and Mr. Burnaby will probably beat him."

Such a story, Mr. Crerar added, was the work of the Government propaganda bureau in Ottawa, and "I think," he went on, "that the propaganda bureau took its lessons from the German propaganda bureau during the war. At any rate, it is just as accurate."

The Prime Minister had challenged him to name the big interests behind the Government. "I have already given some proofs," observed Mr. Crerar, "and I am here again tonight that the manufacturers who have benefited at the expense of the Canadian people are today behind the Government in its appeal to the people."

FAMINE CLAIMS CHILD VICTIMS

Appalling Conditions in Stricken Region Are Reported in Moscow Dispatch—Little Ones Strangled by Parents

RIGA, Nov. 3.—Children are living in the woods and fields like young animals in some parts of the famine district of Russia, says an official wireless dispatch from Moscow. They are little waifs who have fled from famine-stricken cities and villages and subsist on roots and grass. When adults approach they flee, showing every evidence of fear.

Overcrowding of children's homes has been carried so far in the Syrian and Ufa districts that some of the institutions are sheltering four times as many children as they have accommodations for. In these places children take turns in occupying such beds as are available, one small famine victim crawling into a bed the moment another child vacates it.

"Entire families are jumping into rivers, and cases are reported of parents strangling their children, rather than see them die of starvation," says the dispatch, which also gives the first report of disorderly migration. "Over the roads in the Irbit district is moving a band of disorderly refugees from starving Volga."

Earthquake in Peru

LIMA, Peru, Nov. 3.—Four sharp earthquake shocks were felt in this city. The first and third were violent, but all were distinctly felt throughout Lima. The secretary of the Lima Geographical Society declared that the centre of the disturbance was about 200 miles southeast of here near Ica. Dispatches from that city said the residents, greatly alarmed by the tremor, had taken refuge in the parks.

Total of 11,500 enumerators were used to take Canada's census last June.

MARKING OF ORIGIN CHANGED BY CUSTOMS

OTTAWA, Nov. 3.—Customs regulations respecting the marking of imported goods with an indication of the country of origin have been considerably changed in so far as they concern piece goods, carpets and oilcloths. It was announced at the Department of Customs here today.

Under the new regulations, cloth and material in the web or roll will be marked with an indication of the country of origin on one end of each web and on the piece ticket. Carpets will be marked by means of a projecting ticket attached to the edge of each roll at the centre, and linoleums and oilcloths will be marked at one end of each roll, either by stamping, stencilling or adhesive labels.

The former regulation called for markings every three yards on piece goods capable of being marked without injury, and every five yards on carpets.

AGITATING FOR RATE REDUCTION

Alberta Government Will Appoint Expert to Look Into Question—Defers Action on Vancouver Board's Request

EDMONTON, Nov. 3.—The freight rates question has now been put up, from two different angles, to the Provincial Government. Both the Edmonton and the Vancouver Board of Trade have laid their views before Premier Greenfield and some of his ministers, but this time on points that do not conflict.

A delegation from the Edmonton board waited on the Government this morning and asked for its co-operation in an effort to secure from the railways a temporary rate reduction on grain, as a relief measure under existing conditions. This was promised by the Government, which will appoint a representative to work with the board committee.

The Vancouver delegation presented its case for a general reduction at a meeting with the Government Wednesday afternoon, when again the request was for co-operation. In this instance, however, the Government wished to consider and investigate before making promises.

In the meantime it is the intention of the Government to proceed at once with its appointment of a freight rate expert to look into the entire question of rates from an Alberta point of view. Some 15 applications for this position have been received, ranging from Edmonton to Ottawa, and it is understood that among them are a number of well recommended men who are qualified for the work proposed.

Hon. V. W. Smith, Minister of Railways, to whom was entrusted the picking out of the best applicant or the finding of a suitable man in some other quarter, will make a selection for recommendation to the executive council in the course of the next few days. It is expected, and he says that the appointment will likely follow immediately thereafter.

The Alberta expert, when thus appointed, will begin work at once, with a view to securing data and preparing a case in time for presentation to the Railway Commission at its January meeting in Ottawa.

SIR ROBERT BORDEN SPEAKS OF DOMINIONS

NEW YORK, Nov. 3.—Refuting the contentions of those who maintain that the attainment by the Dominions of the status and influence of self-governing nations tends toward the disintegration of the British Empire, Sir Robert Borden, Canadian delegate to the limitation of armaments conference at Washington, at a luncheon given in his honor by the Lawyers' Club here today, declared that, on the contrary, the development assured the integrity and security of the British Commonwealth.

"The voice of that commonwealth in world affairs must not be the voice of the United Kingdom alone, but the voice of all the British self-governing nations," he said.

Dealing briefly with the approaching conference, Sir Robert said it was the same high ideal which prompted the organization of the League of Nations which had inspired the United States President to convene the meeting of nations in Washington.

"His action has been welcomed throughout the world," he said, "and the nations join their prayers for the fulfilment of his endeavor."

LACK OF WATER BRINGS HARDSHIP

People of New Westminster Are Denied Means of Cleanliness—All Possible Measures Taken for Relief

NEW WESTMINSTER, Nov. 3.—Yesterday was "washless Wednesday" in New Westminster, and today the lack of water is almost too tender a subject to speak of lightly. Watering carts laden with the precious fluid made their appearance in the famine-stricken residential sections at 8:30 o'clock this morning, and formed the centre of groups of mob-capped housewives, and in many cases dirty-faced children, with all sorts of containers. All the Royal City's carts were pressed into service, as well as some borrowed from North Vancouver and other districts.

All the New Westminster schools were closed yesterday owing to the lack of water. The 2,000 school children will not return to "work" until further notice.

Connection with Burnaby and Sapperton, where there is said to be 100 pounds pressure, was being made this morning. To compel the instant repair of leaky taps and the conservation of water, city inspectors are inspecting all taps. Failure to remedy conditions within 24 hours will result in the water being turned off.

CAMPAGNE PROPAGANDA

The disembodied ghost of free trade is stalking across the stage of the Federal election campaign seeking a new and living home. It has been raised by the Grain Growers' merger, and its presence is condoned equivocally by Mr. Mackenzie King and his followers, who state that they do not favor tariffs for protection. Mr. King cannot go further than this because if he did he would antagonize his Quebec following, but his followers in Western Canada and in the Maritime Provinces will hold him to the spirit of the platform of the Liberal Convention. Mr. T. A. Crerar, the Farmers' leader, has raised the issue of the present campaign. He raised it in Parliament and through the political propaganda of the United Grain Growers, an organization which is finding the funds to finance the Farmers' bid for power. He raised the issue in a challenge to the Government, and that challenge has been accepted by the Prime Minister and his supporters. The election outcome, as decided upon on December 6 next, will be either ultimately free trade or the continuation of the fiscal policy which has prevailed in the Dominion for the past four decades.

In his latest pronouncement the Liberal leader is pointing out that his party does not stand for free trade. According to what he said previously, however, it does stand for no protective tariff and the abolition of the policy of protection means free trade. Mr. Crerar advocates, as a first instalment in this direction, the making of a reciprocity pact with the United States. That, too, is the Liberal policy and the one on which they precipitated an issue in 1911. The instalment of free trade which would be foreshadowed by a reciprocity pact can only mean, as it would have meant in 1911 if the wisdom of the country had not decreed otherwise, that this Dominion would become, what Mr. Tait described as an "adjunct of the United States." Of course, the former President may have meant a commercial adjunct, but the description is humiliating enough taken in any sense. The Farmers' Party is willing that adjunctive process should be set in motion as is evidenced by Mr. Crerar's manifesto. The Liberals, too, believe in reciprocity with the United States, although they attempt to show it would not place Canada in a position of dependency in trade matters.

If there is even a suspicion of truth in that reciprocity would make Canada a commercial adjunct of the United States, surely the present campaign is fraught with the gravest danger, and people have the right to question the expenditure of hundreds of thousands of dollars in political propaganda by the United Grain Growers. The ultimate aim of the Farmers' Party, according to Mr. Crerar's manifesto, is free trade. No matter what Canada might do in that respect other countries will not follow suit, and, indeed, any country which values its industrial prosperity, could not be expected to emulate a policy of economic suicide. The meaning then of free trade in Canada and high protection in the United States would be that this Dominion would become an enlarged market in which American manufacturers would gain increased prosperity through which they would drain us of our money, and through means of which an adverse balance of trade would be built up in this country which would spell disaster. That adverse balance would be accompanied by a discriminatory rate of exchange which would proportionately reduce the buying power of our people, and they would have less money with which to buy. The Farmers promise this free trade as their ultimate aim. The Liberals favor an instalment of it by a reciprocity pact with the United States.

No country on political platforms can divorce from the minds of the people what is the issue of the present campaign. It stands four square before the electorate, and upon the verdict the future prosperity of the country rests. Nothing has happened to show that the protective policy in fiscal affairs has proved a failure. On the contrary, there is no country in the world where it is more essential than in Canada. Every nation which is learning the economic lessons of the time is becoming firmly imbued with the belief that protection is necessary to the industrial life. Australia is raising her tariff bars. The United States is putting on new duties so that her home products may be purchased at home and employment created. Great Britain has departed from her free trade policy by putting into effect protective duties which will safeguard her key industries. In the face of these examples, and of all the teachings of political economy in recent times, the standpoint of the Farmers' Party in this Dominion is not intelligible, and the movement towards reciprocity with the United States, sanctioned by both Farmers and Liberals, is fraught with dangers, both industrial and political, of which many of its most ardent supporters do not seem to have any conception. For one thing, the result of reciprocity must be an immense economic sacrifice on the part of this country, a sacrifice made without any tangible gain. It is against reciprocity with the United States and against ultimate free trade in this Dominion that those who are supporting Premier Meighen in the present campaign are fighting.

A WOMEN'S "PARLIAMENT"

The convention of the Vancouver Island Women's Institutes now in session here, is a gathering which annually discusses a wide range of subjects and discusses them from their mental, moral and material viewpoints. We gather that almost anything relating to social welfare may come within the purview of these ladies so that their convention is of particular moment in giving the women's attitude on a variety of questions which are now being grappled with by governments. Women are becoming educated politically far more rapidly than is generally believed, for the manner in which they have acquainted themselves with public questions, and particularly those which bear some relation to domestic life, shows their desire to make their influence felt in a political sense. The sanity and breadth of view which have characterized a number of the papers read and the discussions of the present convention is a hopeful augury for the future.

We are glad to see that the question of education and better schools is one of those engaging the attention of this women's parliament. It shows that there is a realization among those who generally know most about their children's progress, and that is the mothers, that the educational system of this Province falls below requirements. We note, too, that in what was said special stress was laid on the inadequate training given to teachers. Dr. J. D. MacLean, the Minister of Education, in speaking in the Legislature a few days ago, pointed to British Columbia as having the best educated class of teachers in Canada, and dwell upon the fact that thirty-six per cent of those in the Provincial schools had a college education in whole or part. We are inclined to wonder if Dr. MacLean really believes what he says. Is a college education alone necessary as equipment for teaching? Dr. MacLean must know that some of the best educated persons in the world today would probably be distinct failures as teachers. There is something above and beyond being a graduate of a university needed in the teaching profession. There is sympathy, knowledge of youth and life, the ability to form character, and, above all, the faculty of imparting information which the teacher should possess.

There are many mothers, and some attending the Women's Institute convention, who evidently do not agree with Dr. MacLean's defence of the educational system in British Columbia, and we do not blame them if it is the Minister's belief that a mere recital of figures, from which entirely false conclusions may be drawn, constitutes an argument in defence of the methods in this Province. It is well this subject should have been raised in such a quarter, and it is well, too, that bodies like the Women's Institutes are giving more and more attention to the welfare of the young. Women's advent into the political sphere will at least have one great benefit in that their energies will be directed towards conserving and enlarging the interests of youth. Where women's interests lie is plainly evident in the discussions of the convention with which we are dealing, and in this direction it can perform a great educational work in influencing political action for the betterment of the boys and girls of British Columbia.

TWO MORE DAYS

Only two more days remain for registration on the Federal voters' list in this electoral district, and but 1,100 or so names have been added. It has been pointed out that this week's registration should account for 7,000 names, but at the present rate of progress we doubt if one-third that number will be secured. In some quarters an impression still exists that some tax has to be paid before a person can register. This is not the case, far there is no tax necessary. The confusion in this regard is due to the recent compilation of the municipal voters' list, those called upon to register having to pay the $3 road tax. We think, too, that there are a large number of people in the city whose names were on the last Provincial voters' list but who do not know that, because they failed to exercise the franchise at the last Provincial election, their names do not appear on the revised list. It is necessary for all these people to register again if they want to vote in the Federal election of December 6.

It is hardly conceivable that there are thousands of people in this city, both men and women, who are so little interested in the governance of their country that they will not take the trouble to register, and, having registered, to vote. Why it should be always necessary to remind people of the responsibilities of citizenship is one of the enigmas of the time. That there should be such apathy prevailing is one of the faults of our educational system, which has failed to develop fully the spirit of citizenship that should be one of the chief glories of any State. Unless within the next two days there is a remarkable increase in the registration of voters over the experience of the past four days, there will be thousands of Victoria citizens who are disfranchised through their own laziness, or indifference. That would not be a pleasant reflection on the progressive spirit of the community.

Mothers' Pensions

Sir,—I read with dismay that the Government meditates a great reduction in the mothers' pensions, and was glad to see that some of the members of the Opposition had spoken strongly on this subject. Also the letter from Mrs. Alice Smith, on November 1, was very much to the point. Why should women who have husbands able to support them take the positions which could be easily filled by widows who have no support? I think the Hon. Mary Ellen Smith cannot be cognizant of the indignities inflicted upon the poor unfortunate women who have to apply to the Government for help, or she, when all the women look down upon the injustice which is being done to these pensioners. One case I have in mind where the called investigator went at 10 p.m. to spy upon an unfortunate pensioner, and another pensioner was told "I must see your last month's statement and yet another was told "if you can afford to eat of coal at one time you don't need the pension."

Let us have women to investigate who have hearts, not crust, crust persons as are at present employed. It is a great pity there are not a few Mr. Bosters in the Government, then we would have this matter settled once and for all.

Information for Electors

Sir,—The coming election will introduce into politics a multitude of newly enfranchised voters who are unfamiliar with the terminology. Knowing I take an interest in the subject (purely academic, of course) some of these have asked me for information on certain topics, which under your favor, might be of interest to some of your readers. The name of the parties, their leaders, and their policies, I have given with much trepidation, substantially as follows: The Government, under Mr. Meighen, is for protection, under Mr. Meighen, under Mr. King, isn't, while the Farmers, under Mr. Crerar, are for free trade. Free trade invites the foreigner to dump his surplus goods into Canada; protection does not cancel the invitation. It only insists on fair treatment for the host. Mr. Crerar and his crumbly followers worship at the shrine of free trade, the doctrine pronounced by every government in the world, including even the British. Some are bothered, naturally enough, about the question of how it differs from the caucus, and why both require such delicate handling. They are much the same, to be sure, but the Farmers, under private meeting of the members of a party during a session of parliament. They are unable to understand why it is at the end of a long and heated debate, the vote to declare which is the winning side should divide the members into two groups which are always the same. They think the vote should be the result of convincing argument, of irrefragable logic. And so it is. And perhaps it is. But there are some who pretend that the members have already decided in caucus how they will vote and which side will win.

Members of a legislative assembly get about half the pay of a member of parliament, but otherwise they are much the same. A wicked M. P. does enough about his constituents to make M. P.'s hurt only his neighbors. When a legislature meets in annual session the Lieutenant-Governor reads the message from the Throne, which is written for him by some Government Minister (just who this is is a state secret), in chase and cautious English, and this is the programme proposed for discussion and debate. In the House of Commons, before the message is finally passed by the House it must be criticized by the Opposition and defended by the Government. These are called the debates. At Ottawa they are printed in Hansard, and sometimes in French, after being revised for grammatical and other errors, but in this Province the debates are considered too ephemeral for print.

Important moves of the Government receive the sanction of the party caucus, which also strives to unify the conduct of the members before the House. The Opposition caucus acts in precisely the same way. On the floor of the House the most ardent member, called the leader of the Opposition, watches for lapses of some Government minister, and gets what advantage he can out of it, whilst performing his constitutional duty of putting ginger into the debates.

It is in the caucus, nevertheless, where the man with good ideas and little eloquence can effectually influence legislation, and it thus becomes a useful adjunct to parliamentary procedure.

The Casino

Sir,—It is cheering to see that so influential a body as the Chamber of Commerce has thought well enough of a plan, which I took the liberty of laying before your readers more than a year ago, to get it into the beginning of a concrete shape. It is to be hoped that now having put its hand to the plough, it will finish the job and produce a harvest in the shape of an accomplished work. The plan appears to be good enough, but they suffer from a congenital British fault. They consist of a compromise. A bath is a most desirable addition to a Casino but it is questionable if it should occupy the place of first importance in one. Apparently the whole establishment is to be subjected to a mere addition to a bath.

I notice that the clumsy name "Amusement Centre" is still used to describe this establishment. It indicates a paucity of imagination and a pusillanimity on the part of the committee. It appears to be afraid of the word "Casino." It is true there are several very naughty places in different parts of the world known by this name, and there are also many others frequented by many most respectable people who are not scared at a name. It is true that the word "Casino" occupies the centre and forms the chief part of the name, but there is no necessity to include any objectionable features in it. Moreover, if the name suggests certain things that are shunned by some few people it attracts the bulk of humanity, who are quite willing to meet the milder forms of iniquity, and thus the name itself is an attraction, the only fault that can be alleged against it is that it holds out false promises. But if the word "Casino" is not to be used, for Heaven's sake let us have something better than "Amusement Centre." Fancy two friends meeting and asking each other, "Are you going to the Amusement Centre tonight?" And then imagine, if you can, the use of such a cognomen in advertisements and bill boards.

The Rising of Orion

Sir,—No more glorious sight is to be witnessed than that which greets and delights the eye on clear evenings at this season of the year. In the last evening of the hour, directing his gaze towards the eastern sky, will behold this magnificent constellation emerging above the horizon, with its glittering belt and its mighty stars, Betelgeuse and Rigel. Mrs. Martin speaks of it in her work "Friendly Stars." "With all its wonders and its beauty, it is not strange that Orion should be one of the most familiar and most admired of the constellations. It is in brilliant procession across the winter skies. We watch for it between nine and ten o'clock in the evening late in October, and our first view is of the curved line of faint twinkling stars that outline the left arm and the lion's skin."

"Then one jewel after another emerges from the storehouse below the horizon until the whole splendid figure is before us."

The accuracy and beauty of the foregoing description of the constellation may be readily verified by any of your readers on the next fine evening this month.

Mail Delivery

Sir,—With your kind permission the undersigned desires to enter a public protest in regard to the very loose and deplorable method of delivering mail at Jordan River and intermediate points since the washout of Sooke River bridge, the mail being dumped at Milne's Landing and everybody on the Jordan River road, 22 miles from Milne's Landing, must either do without their mail or go for it personally irrespective of distance required to be travelled.

The writer, after having waited for a week, had 15 miles to go and ask for the mail at Milne's Landing, all because of difficulty of crossing a small stream which the Sooke River, now the freest in over this is the worst yet for 25 years, to my knowledge. All previous mail carriers have made a very creditable showing in delivering the mails when the last washout occurred at the same place 25 years ago, and whether the road has been blocked with fallen timber, or snow, they all showed their duty to get the mail through until now.

Sir,—With regard to the report of Mr. W. H. Hart as it appears in The Times of this evening, or the financial position of the three organizations being practically bankrupt, I beg to contradict the statement in so far as it concerns the Army and Navy Veterans' Association in Canada.

INSTITUTES FINISH CONFERENCE TODAY

Mrs. Henderson, of Duncan, Last Night Elected Representative to New Advisory Board—Board of Directors

Mrs. Henderson, of Duncan, was last night elected by the Vancouver Island Conference of Women's Institutes as their representative to the new Advisory Board, other nominees being Mrs. Neal, of Victoria, and Mrs. Macdonald, of Nanaimo. The meeting also decided on the formation of a new Board of Directors for the Island District Institute. Medames (B. Shanley), Murray (W. Shanley), Rickard (J. Shanley), Crocker (Victoria), and Deacon (Nanaimo), being appointed as the members of this. Officers of the Board of Directors were afterwards chosen from among the appointees as follows: President, Mrs. Lawrie; vice-president, Mrs. Murray; secretary, Mrs. Deacon.

Mr. Warnock presided at last evening's session of the conference, which was chiefly occupied with the foregoing matters and the explanation by Mrs. V. S. Macdonald of the reasons for the advisability of the formation of a Board of Directors for the Women's Institutes.

Reports of Institutes were interesting, and gave undeniable evidence of the splendid activity of the various organizations, those reporting being Mrs. Deacon; Lake Hill, through Mrs. Calvert; Strawberry Vale, through Mrs. Foster; Granby, through Mrs. McLaughlin; and Nanaimo, through Mrs. Deacon. The "help" member of the Institute family, was especially congratulated on having raised in the six months since its formation, the sum of $2,975. This record was as well as the testimony of the other Institutes moved Dr. Warnock to congratulate the ladies on their fine work. He, too, spoke briefly on the subject of the District Institute, advocating the formation of the Board of Directors. When this was brought up to debate there was no lack of strong opposition, but the reasons advanced overrode the objections, and when the matter came to the vote there were only two members who refused to signify their assent by standing with the eyes.

The conference will conclude its business at the morning session today, when resolutions, further Institute reports, and business and new business will be dealt with.

At the session yesterday morning Mrs. Pollock, Pogue, representing The Western Women's Weekly, Vancouver, announced that hereafter that journal intended reserving a page of each week's edition for the publication of Women's Institute matters, and as there are four District Institutes in the Province, each District Institute would be given a page once a month. The conference commended itself very highly to the conference, which thanked Mrs. Pogue for her information.

Morning Session

The morning session of the conference was chiefly devoted to the discussion of the question of immigration. Immigration of foreigners into any country had long been recognized as one of the important social and political problems of the country, said Mrs. Watson, of Gordon Head, who introduced the subject in a well-written paper. The many effects of immigration on the physical characteristics of the people of the country were defined, having a bearing on the health of the community, both physical and mental; while the influence of the immigrant race, the relation of the immigrant to the Canadian schools and the effect of the schools on the immigrant, the occupation of the immigrant, etc., were some of the matters which should be considered. The criminal immigrant and the pauper immigrant also had their delecting effects.

"Why do we need immigration?" this speaker asked.

The reply was multifarious. In the first place it tended to break up the "clique" habit, and among its benefits was the broadening of the viewpoint and the breaking up of prejudice. The country was new with much land to be opened up, and immigrants were needed to take up these lands and help the country to develop by doing so. The immigrants while from the ranks of the immigrant had been drawn, from time to time, men of sterling character and high ideals, who were very seldom met with white men who desired to pass their lives as day laborers, whereas the Chinese and Japanese made splendid laborers.

Caucasian vs. Mongolian

"As to the vices and diseases which are attributed to Asiatics, it might be said without hesitation that they have not a single disease or vice which does not exist among 'white men,'" said Mrs. Watson. She contended that any Chinatown could be kept in good sanitary condition merely by a little energetic and honest enforcement of the building laws already in existence. "The worst places in the Chinese sections of big cities were those run for the profit of white men. The Chinese might be said to be proving a menace to agriculture in their truck gardens, but on the other hand they had set on example of neatness, cleanliness and industry which the white man might well emulate."

"The solution of the immigration problem requires a change in our attitude towards the immigrant. We have thought too much of the benefits he would derive from the privilege of living in our country. We must consider more the gifts and natural abilities he brings, and make better use of them. We must devise a system of distribution that will provide for their movement to the parts of the country that need them, and where they will find permanent homes," said Mrs. Watson.

Opening Jams at Fairs

The conference discussed the recently-instituted custom at Fall fairs of opening jars of preserves, jams and pickles for examination before judging. Mrs. Lawrie objected to the wastefulness of this practice, and was supported in her views by Mrs. Reid, of South Salt Spring Island. Mrs. Macdonald explained that the judges gave points for favor as well as appearance, and that in order to do this it was necessary for the preserves to be tasted. Mrs. A. W. McNell, of Alberni, stated that competitors who had aspired to good appearance had been known to enter preserved fruits which had been merely bottled in boiling water.

A glimpse of the wide scope of Institute effort and its importance as a factor in the rural districts was revealed in the reports presented by Institute delegates. Cowichan Institute, according to the report given by Mrs. Leather, had been largely instrumental in bringing about school consolidation. Lessons in domestic arts had been given to the members and much stimulus had been given to the annual Fall fair. Generous donations had also been made to local causes.

The thirty members of the Comox Valley Chapter, which met at the local improvements, and in addition had staged a very successful flower show, and wool and lace demonstration. Mrs. Millard, who presented the report, was warmly congratulated on the Comox women's energy.

Cobbie Hill had concentrated its efforts on the welfare of school children and the building of a community hall, according to the report of its delegate, Mrs. Steine.

Consideration of the questionnaire sent out to the Institutes gave rise to an enlightening talk by Mrs. Macdonald, who touched upon the various matters pertaining to Institute work.

Mrs. G. Henderson, of Cowichan, occupied the chair at the morning session.

VANCOUVER'S BILL

The consolidation of the Vancouver City charter and amendments was before the Private Bills Committee of the Legislature yesterday morning. Mayor Gale, Alderman Cecil, Mr. E. McCrommon, K.C., counsel for the city, and other interested parties, appearing.

In view of the forthcoming Government taxation proposals the taxation sections of the bill have been laid over, leaving the measure more or less harmless, and thereby greatly relieving the burdens of the Private Bills Committee. The innocuous sections of the measure were read through. The bill will be again before the committee this morning.

Mr. M. B. Jackson is chairman of the Private Bills Committee, and Mr. J. B. Clearhouse is secretary.

The Agricultural Committee of the House met yesterday for organizational purposes. Mr. K. O. McDonald, Liberal member for North Okanagan, being named chairman, and Rev. Thomas Menzies, Independent member for Comox, secretary.

CITY HOTEL MAN WILL FURTHER APPEAL CASE

John Ferguson, Sentenced to Prison Under Liquor Act, Will Carry Fight for Liberty to Court of Appeal

Following notice of appeal to the Court of Appeal, Mr. R. C. Lowe, counsel for John Ferguson, whose appeal to His Honor Judge Lampman against a police court conviction and sentence of six months' imprisonment for having liquor for sale in the Gordon Hotel was dismissed last Tuesday in the County Court, came before Mr. Justice Morrison yesterday, and obtained the release of his client on bail, pending the appeal proceedings.

Earlier in the day Mr. Lowe went before Judge Lampman, Chambers and applied for leave to reopen the case, on the ground that under the Government Liquor Act, as counsel argued, it was not an offence to have beer for sale.

Mr. Lowe contended that everywhere in the provisions of the act liquor was distinguished from beer. Under Section 25, it was held unlawful to sell, or to have for sale, liquor; and a minimum prison sentence of six months was decreed on a conviction under the section. Section 46, said Mr. Lowe, provided that on a conviction for selling beer, the accused should be liable to a fine of not less than $50, but that nothing in that section or any other in the act made it a punishable offence to have beer for sale.

Mr. Lowe said that the intention of the Legislature was obvious in the distinction drawn in these provisions between liquor and beer; and there could be no doubt that liquor was meant to include all spirituous drinks, but was not meant to include beer. Mr. Lowe quoted a decision of Judge Cayley, of Vancouver, by which a prison sentence had been commuted to the imposition of a fine, on the raising of this point in an analogous case. Mr. Lowe submitted that this consideration, if it had been introduced before Judge Lampman on the appeal proceedings in the County Court, would have affected His Honor's decision therein; and that to reopen the case should be granted.

Mr. C. L. Harrison, who appeared for the Crown, said that by no process of reason could it be said that the word "liquor" was meant to exclude beer from its operation; and that in any case the accused had been convicted also of having whisky for sale in the hotel.

The learned judge, in refusing the application, said that, without venturing a hasty judgment on the Vancouver decision, which required further consideration, he would hold that the term "liquor" must be interpreted as including beer. He held that the accused had committed the offence of Section 25; and that even if Section 46 would bear the interpretation put upon it by counsel, it could not apply in this case.

Ferguson was convicted in the city police court last August before Acting-Supplementary Magistrate Alexis Martin, and was sentenced to a term of six months' imprisonment. The appeal proceedings in the County Court, begun last week, and concluded last Tuesday, were marked by repeated efforts on the part of Mr. Lowe to bring the jurisdiction of the court mainly on the ground that the act had not been proclaimed by the Lieutenant-Governor in the manner prescribed in its enacting clause. The case will now go before the Court of Appeal, the hearing being set for the New Year sitting in this city; and Ferguson will enjoy his liberty pending the court's judgment of the status of the much-debated liquor legislation of the Legislature last session.

TEN LITTLE OFFENDERS

Juvenile Court Witnesses Painful Scene When Five Boys Are Parted From Their Mothers

Ten boys, the eldest no more than 13 years old, the youngest only nine, accompanied in most instances by their tearful mothers, were brought before Magistrate Jay in the Juvenile Court yesterday, and were there charged with the theft of many assorted articles, including three watches, a shotgun, a revolver, several pocket knives, a dagger, two motor car rugs, face powder and candy. The boys all pleaded guilty and were remanded for judgment until today.

Five of the older boys had been detained overnight in the cells of the city jail, and were again committed to that place of detention after the proceedings. The five younger boys were allowed to go to their homes. The parting between the boys destined for the cells and their mothers occasioned a painful scene, and the magistrate, who said that he had only ordered the remand in order that he might well consider what was best for the boys themselves, was compelled to ask the grief-stricken women not to prolong the ordeal.

The evidence of Detectives Phipps and Scilliano, supported by the admissions of the boys themselves, all of whom answered the questions of the court readily and frankly, showed that the watches were taken by one of the boys from the store of Messrs. Watson & McGregor, but that the store had not been broken into. One of the boys had merely taken a wrench from an open launch, and had returned it next day. The shotgun and the rugs were taken from motor cars, and were afterwards found in the home of one of the boys. Some of the material had been taken from the warehouse of Messrs. Kelly, Douglas & Company, and there was other property missing from the warehouse, admittedly taken by the boys, but not yet recovered.

Magistrate Jay, who went carefully into the circumstances of each charge, and in every case asked the boys what school and class they were attending, said that this was the most serious group of offenders he had ever been called upon to deal with in his experience as a judge of the Juvenile Court. He must consider carefully what it was best to do in the interests of the youthful offenders, and he would remand the boys until today.

PLANS CANCELLATION ACT

Appearing before Mr. Justice Morrison in Supreme Court Chambers yesterday, Mr. Frank Staepole, K.C., Registrar of Titles, raised the question of procedure on applications under the Plans Cancellation Act, having already addressed the court in that connection on the previous day.

Mr. Staepole pointed out that Section 4 of the Plans Cancellation Act requires a copy of the plan sought to be cancelled to be filed with the petition, and provides that under certain circumstances, mentioned in the same section, the production of the plan may be dispensed with by the court. In the petition under consideration it was stated that there were two subdivisions in the vicinity of the subdivision in question; whereas there were two such subdivisions, and he pointed out that, for a proper cancellation of the plan, a knowledge of surrounding subdivisions is required, and drew the attention of the court to the inadvisability of dispensing with the production of a verified copy of the plan, the subject matter of any petition, unless it is clearly established that the requirements of Section 4 of the act are complied with. Mr. Staepole said further that non-compliance with the requirements of the Plans Cancellation Act would result in an application for the dismissal of any petition which is not in accordance therewith.

Mr. Justice Morrison, as he had done last Wednesday, concurred in the remarks of Mr. Staepole, and drew the attention of counsel present to the necessity in future of stricter compliance with the provisions of the statute.

DEATH BY ACCIDENT IS INQUEST VERDICT

Coroner's Jury Finds That the Truck Driver Was Not to Blame When William Rowntree Was Run Down

William A. Rowntree, 45 years of age, resident on the Hinkinson Road, who died in St. Joseph's Hospital one hour after he was run down by a three-ton coal truck in the dense fog which obscured the corner of Yates and School Streets, at 8:15 p.m. last Wednesday, came to his death by accident, and Chester Thomas Alexander, driver of the truck, was not to blame therefor. Such was the verdict rendered by the inquest jury empaneled by Coroner E. C. Hart at the Thomson Funeral Home yesterday afternoon to inquire into the circumstances of Mr. Rowntree's death.

Dr. Walter Bapty, who was driving by the scene of the accident about one minute after its occurrence, and who rendered first aid on the spot, and afterwards attended the injured man in hospital, testified that Mr. Rowntree never regained consciousness after he was hit by the truck; and that death was due to loss of blood from a wound in the right knee and to shock. Dr. Bapty said that when he arrived a hasty tourniquet had been applied to the wound by Alexander; and he added that the fog was so thick at that time and place as to render it unsafe for pedestrians and drivers of vehicles alike to travel at any speed whatever, and that the only safe place to be was home.

Chester Thomas Alexander said that he was driving a three-ton truck at the time of the accident. His cousin, Paul Alexander, was sitting alongside him, and there was a Chinaman in the back of the truck. They had delivered a load of fuel to the Thomson Hospital and were on their way home. They had great difficulty in finding their way through the fog, and were traveling at a careful rate of speed. At times on the journey, said witness, he did not know where he was.

Just as they passed the corner of Yates and School Streets, continued Alexander, a man showed up out of the fog, with the truck almost upon him. Witness had his foot on the brake pedal, which he put on. The man was hit by the left front wheel. The ground was slippery, and the truck skidded some six feet, pushing the man along the street. The wheel did not go over the man, who was Mr. Rowntree. Witness and his cousin carried the injured man to the grass of the boulevard, and stanching a heavy flow of blood by the application of a heavy tourniquet, made with handkerchiefs, and a stick. They halted Dr. Bapty as he passed, who took charge of the injured man. Mr. Rowntree was unconscious when they picked him up. Paul Alexander corroborated this evidence.

Coroner Hart instructed the jury that it would be possible to find one of two verdicts, either death by accident, or by manslaughter. Considering the evidence as to the state of the weather, and the action of the parties, it should not be difficult to arrive at a true estimate of the accident.

The jury returned with a verdict of accidental death after a brief absence. The jury consisted of Messrs. Edward C. Keworthy (foreman), John Y. Wilkinson, Archibald King, John Hosie, Francis C. Jones and J. W. Toimie. Constable E. Jones attended on behalf of the city police.

ACCUSED CHINAMEN OFFER REJECTED PLEA

Court is Unable to Accept Ingenious Explanation of Presence in Illegal Opium Resort

Wong, Joe Loy, Lim Kee and Lim Kim gave various explanations to Magistrate Jay in the city police court yesterday of their presence in rooms at 521 Pignard Street last Wednesday night, where they were surprised and arrested by constables of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police; but the court found that the place was, as alleged by the constables, an opium resort; that the accused were unlawfully there; and that they must each be fined in the sum of $25 and $25.00 costs.

Constables Grant and Broadbelt, R.C.M.P., said that they found a strong door, built with three-ply lumber and reinforced with timber bars, barring the way to the smoky den. Looking through a hole in the door, the officers saw the accused in the act of breaking up with an axe pipes, lamps and other opium-smoking paraphernalia. The slightest retreat of the surprised Chinamen through the rear of the quarters was cut off by other officers; and the witnesses finally forced an entrance.

The accused protested jointly and severally that they were innocent of the charge against them. Lim Kim said that the partly-destroyed paraphernalia was old, and that its owner was now far away from such sinful scenes. Magistrate Jay was surprised to hear that the alleged absent owner was not in China; but Lim Kim would not commit himself to such a distant location.

Joe Loy only dropped in for a moment to look for a man who wanted to buy some chickens. Your Honor. He knew nothing of opium. He had seen no smoking; he had smelt no smoke. Wong, for his part, might please the court, had gone up there to look for friends; and he had only been there a mere matter of moments when these rude officers burst in upon the innocent scene with their injurious accusations. As to the matter of the broken paraphernalia, Wong explained that they had just split up an old opium pipe that happened to be lying around, because they needed some kindling for the fire. It was a scene of pious beatitude, as Wong visualized it, until jealousy and suspicion and everything that was abhorrent to good will among men had entered in the persons of those constables.

"If that is all they have to say," said the magistrate, dryly, addressing Wong, the court inquired, "how many of them are each fined in the sum of $25, and $25.00 costs."

FISHERIES OF B.C.

HOLD FIRST PLACE

Value of Province's Fish Products Totals Almost Half of the Dominion Fisheries for Year 1920

The report of the Commissioner of Fisheries for the Province of British Columbia for the year 1920, which has just been issued from the Government press, states that though trawling for salmon on the West Coast of Vancouver Island was vigorously prosecuted by a large fleet of power boats, the catch was less than in recent years, owing largely to rough weather.

The salmon pack for Vancouver Island totaled only $4,170 cases, as against 27,519 cases in 1919, and 208,922 cases in 1918. This is a decrease far below the pack of previous high years, which is attributed by the department to a lack of demand for the fall-running species of salmon. The demand for chum being so limited that a pack of but 12,491 cases was made, as against 125,013 cases of this kind of fish in 1919.

The catch by traps of sockeye salmon on Vancouver Island produced the smallest pack on record, being only 3,801 cases.

The salmon pack for the whole Province for 1920 was 208,922 cases less than in the previous year and totaled 1,187,616 cases.

B.C. Fisheries Lead

It is interesting to note that the relative value of the fisheries of British Columbia, as compared with those of other Provinces in the Dominion. These Pacific Coast fisheries produced products of a total value of $25,301,607, being 44.7 per cent of the total value of the fisheries of the Dominion of Canada. The value of the salmon catch in the Province alone was $17,537,166. Halibut came second in value and herring third, while the value of the whale fisheries holds fourth place.

Among the more unusual items of value in the fisheries report are crabs, with a valuation of $55,902; octopus, valued at $6,760; fur seals adding $1,294 to the total, and fish scrap and fertilizer valued at $19,206.

ACOSTA IS WINNER OF PULITZER TROPHY

QMAHA, Neb., Nov. 3.—Bert Acosta, of New York, won the annual Pulitzer silver trophy race for heavier-than-air craft here today, defeating a field of five other contestants, one of whom, H. E. Hartney, of New York, was injured when his plane crashed near Loveland, Iowa.

Circling the race course from Omaha to Loveland, to Calhoun, Neb., and return five times, Acosta covered the route of about 150 miles in 52 minutes 32 seconds, or at the rate of 174.7 miles an hour, compared with last year's record of 173 miles an hour, made by Capt. C. C. Moseley.

The first prize of $2,000 goes with the trophy to Acosta. Pilot Hartney, who is executive secretary of the Aero Club of America, was injured when his plane was broken, and he suffered some internal injuries, the seriousness of which could not be learned tonight.

FIGHT PROMISED OVER ACCOUNTANTS' MEASURE

Bill Proposes to Grant Wide Powers to New Body, Authority to Form Which Is Being Sought

What promises to develop a warm fight in the Legislature is the bill to incorporate the Institute of Chartered Accountants, a measure in line with that brought down a year ago to provide for incorporation of an architects' association. The bill was before members in the House yesterday, being sponsored by Mr. F. W. Anderson, Liberal member for Kamloops. It provides for the perpetuation of the Chartered Accountants of British Columbia, as incorporated by the Chartered Accountants Act, 1909, the "original institute."

The new bill is designed along the lines of the Ontario measure, which, it is stated, has been operative for a number of years. Its aim is to uniform the practice of chartered accountants throughout Canada, but in view of the fact that it proposes to give the Council of the Association wide powers as to admission of members and as to the use of the term "Chartered Accountant" and other designations, opposition is being made to it. Already a petition has been presented to the House against the measure, and an active lobby against its provisions is under way, notwithstanding the fact that one section of the bill sets forth that nothing in the bill shall affect or interfere with the right of any person, not a member of the Institute, to practice as an accountant in the Province, nor with the right of any person not residing nor having an office in the Province, to use any designation as accountant.

The bill was given its first reading. The House, in committee, of the whole, approved of the following amendments: To amend the Summary Convictions Act; to amend the Weekly Half-Holiday Act; to amend the Real Estate Licensing Act; to amend the Court of Appeal Act; the bill respecting grants for lands in the South Okanagan irrigation project, and the bill granting a ninety-nine-year lease of Government lands to the municipality of Burnaby for park purposes.

The Private Bills Committee, Mr. M. B. Jackson has informed the Legislature, will insist upon the rules as to advertising private bills being adhered to. He pointed to the fact that the rules have been materially altered to remove all undue restrictions, and yet it is found this year that the rules have been ignored. He pressed the hope that persons having bills to bring forward would see to it that the rules are hereafter complied with.

PROTEST ALLOWING ORIENTALS TO VOTE

Trades and Labor Council Passes Resolution Against Enfranchisement Asked For—Mr. Hastings Opposes It

A protest against the enfranchisement of native born Orientals, a petition for which was before the Legislature at its last session, was taken over, was made by the Trades and Labor Council Wednesday evening in the passage, unanimously, of a resolution, sponsored by acceding Christian. There were less than a dozen delegates in the room when the vote was taken.

Mr. Christian, in talking to his motion, pointed out that between 1919 and 1920 over 4,000 Orientals were born in the Province, and he emphasized the menace that lay in giving the vote to such a rapidly increasing native-born Asiatic population.

Mr. Harry Hastings was present in a private capacity. He declared that if the country claimed the native-born Orientals as its own and required of them the performance of the duties of citizenship, even to going to war, then the privilege of citizenship should also be extended, or the laws should be altered, making native-born Orientals aliens.

After various delegates had spoken, giving varied views, the resolution was put and carried. It was as follows: "Whereas a petition has been presented to the Legislative Assembly during the last session of the House praying for the granting of the franchise to all native born Orientals who have been educated in the Province of British Columbia, the said petition being subscribed to by several prominent citizens in the business world of this Province, and

"Whereas, the said business men who have so subscribed their names have been carried away by an excess of sentimentality without considering the ultimate outcome, if the prayer in the petition is granted, as the Orientals in the Province are multiplying to such an extent that in proportion to the white population the increase by birth of the composition of the Legislature is itself threatened, and

"Whereas, the first steps towards equality lie in the direction of the standards of living and domicile, therefore,

"Be it resolved, that in the best interests of the future of this Province, the Trades and Labor Council of the City of Victoria, protest against the prayer in the petition being granted, and

"Be it further resolved, that the Provincial health officers direct their energies towards the enforcement of the law in so far as it applies to the sanitation of all premises occupied by Orientals, and that the Province and the City of Victoria, in particular, and

"Be it further resolved, that the Registrar of Births prohibit in the leading papers throughout the Province the statistics of the native born Orientals for the last ten consecutive years."

CHARGES BOARD WITH ILLEGAL FINANCING

Trustee Mrs. Andrews Claims Secretary Pope's Action in Making Bank Entries Was Open Law Violation

Charges that School Board finances have been handled illegally and that the practice of Secretary W. F. C. Pope of making bank entries of the Board's funds in his own name, was an open violation of the law, were made last night by Trustee Mrs. Bertha J. Andrews.

The School Board decided to hand over to City Treasurer Edwin C. Smith the Board's cash account of approximately $3,500, "in view of the assurance of the City Council's Finance Committee that it will honor any reasonable demand."

This action was suggested by City Auditor J. W. Floyd, who claimed that officials other than the city treasurer had no authority to receive and disburse moneys belonging to the city.

Mrs. Andrews referred to the opinion of Mr. Floyd and recalled that she had never been able to understand the status of the School Board's un-called cash account. "For that reason she had often refused to sign reports of the Finance Committee when she was a member of that body."

"But we have settled this with the city," said Mr. Beckwith. "The City Council asked us to meet them and we thought it was the fair thing to do. Mr. Pope made the bank entries as secretary of the School Board. It was quite regular."

Mrs. Andrews voted against the resolution to hand over the money to the City Treasurer.

"You may be unlawful for us to keep the money, and now you won't vote to give it back," commented Chairman George Jay.

"I am against any resolution stipulating disposal of this money, because it belongs to the city and we had no right to handle it," said Mrs. Andrews.

The Council, which has been paying Secretary Woodward $15 a month for the past three months, decided, on account of the financial situation, to pay him only $10 a month from now on, allowing him to increase that amount by voluntary donations from the individual unions.

Delegate Orr gave notice of a motion which he will introduce at the next meeting, calling for the replacing of the old Rock Bay Bridge by the present railway bridge across the harbor, when the latter structure is moved from its present situation.

President Sivertz stated that the Chamber of Commerce had appointed

CANADA AND U.S. FURNISH LESSON

Sir Robert Borden Points to Their Good Relations as Examples of What May Be Achieved for World

NEW YORK, Nov. 3.—There can be no greater example before the Washington conference of what can be done in limiting armaments than the common history of the United States and Canada, declared Sir Robert Borden, speaking tonight at a dinner given in honor of himself and Lady Borden by the governors of the Sufrage Institute.

The dinner was at the home of Robert Fulton Cutting, New York financier, a director of the institute. Earlier in the day, at a luncheon of the Lawyers' Club, Sir Robert emphasized the responsibility which rested on the British Empire and the United States in preserving the peace of the world.

"There are no two nations of the world under separate systems of government that are as closely associated, commercially and politically, as the people of Canada and the United States," asserted Sir Robert tonight. "There are no two nations with thousands of miles of boundary no unguarded; no nations bordering on great inland seas whose waters are so untroubled by armed navies. It is almost commonplace to speak of the disarmament agreement of 1917, but it is always timely to recall the fulfillment of the promise that it bore.

"May we not in this retrospect, find good omen of what may be accomplished at the great conference that your President has summoned and high hope that kind tidings of disarmament and peace may be borne to a weary, waiting world?"

STANDARD GAUGE FOR AUSTRALIAN RAILWAYS

LONDON, Nov. 3.—A Reuter dispatch from Melbourne says it was decided today at a conference of the state premiers to adopt a proposal to convert all railway systems in the Commonwealth into the standard gauge.

The premiers in January will consider the financial obligations in connection with the change, which is estimated to cost $17,000,000 sterling. Of the 22,000 miles of railway in the Commonwealth only about 6,000 miles are of standard gauge.

Passes Resolution Asking for Sale of Malt Beverages in Hotels and Restaurants—Other Questions Considered

A resolution from the brewery workers, asking that increased facilities for the obtaining of malt beverages at standard hotels and restaurants under Government control and supervision be provided in the Province, was passed by the Trades and Labor Council Wednesday evening, claiming that they could not express the opinion of their unions because they did not know it on that particular matter. Delegates Nunn, Moriarty, Schouler and Baxter withdrew before the vote was taken.

The Council, which has been paying Secretary Woodward $15 a month for the past three months, decided, on account of the financial situation, to pay him only $10 a month from now on, allowing him to increase that amount by voluntary donations from the individual unions.

Delegate Orr gave notice of a motion which he will introduce at the next meeting, calling for the replacing of the old Rock Bay Bridge by the present railway bridge across the harbor, when the latter structure is moved from its present situation.

President Sivertz stated that the Chamber of Commerce had appointed

TREES AND SUNLIGHT

"I am coming, more and more, to measure the charm of cities, at all events their desirability for living, by the standard of their parks, public gardens, and free spaces where one can be pleasantly unoccupied in the open air," declares Arthur Ryerson in "Cities and Sea Coasts and Islands." "I want the town, not the country, but I want the town to give me the illusion of the country, as well as its own characteristic qualities. Rome itself, without its villas, even Rome, would not be Rome; and Reville, which is so vividly a town, and with so many of a town's good qualities, has the most delicious parks, gardens, and promenades (with that one great exception) that I have ever found in a city. Gardens follow the river, the park after park, and every afternoon Reville walks and drives and sits along that broad road leading so straight into the open country, really a Passe de la Delice, a road of trees and sunlight. Turn to the right or to the left, and you are in a quiet shadow, under the canopy of trees and valleys of acacias. There are palms and there is water, and there are little quaint seats everywhere; paths wind in and out, roses are growing in mid-winter. They are picking the oranges as they ripen from green to gold, and carrying them in the paniers of donkeys, and pouring them in bright showers on the ground; and doing them up in boxes. Great merchant vessels lie against the river-side, unloading their cargoes; and across the park, on the other side of wall, drums are beating, bugles are blowing, and the green meadow-grass is blue and red with soldiers. In the park, girls pass wrapped in their shawls, with roses in their hair, grave and laughing; an old gardener, in his worn coat with red facings, pines slowly leaning on his stick. You can sit here for hours, in a warm quiet, and with a few dry leaves drifting about your feet, to remind you that it is winter."

ENTERTAINMENT WAS HELD ON WEDNESDAY

Members of Salvation Army Visited Aged Women's Home and Rendered a Splendid Programme

About thirty-five ladies of the Salvation Army visited the Aged Women's Home on Wednesday evening and gave a delightful entertainment to the aged ladies, who, with the nurses and staff of young lady attendants, made a very appreciative audience, that well filled the large concert hall. Commandant Mrs. Weir presided.

Dainty refreshments, provided by the entertainers, were served at the close, and after a vote of thanks to the performers, all joined in the National Anthem. Mr. Sam Baxter recently took as many of the aged ladies from the Aged Women's Home as his motor would accommodate, accompanied by the head nurse, Miss A. Robb, for a motor drive as far as Langford Lake. There he had them to afternoon tea at the tea rooms before returning. Both the drive and refreshments were greatly appreciated by the ladies, who of necessity are much shut in. Mr. Baxter has on several previous occasions given them such drives.

WEDDINGS

Shiells-Brindley

A wedding of much local interest was celebrated in Los Angeles on last Thursday afternoon. The contracting parties were Mr. James Shiells of this city, and Mrs. Edith Brindley, of Victoria, B.C. Following the wedding ceremony, Mr. Shiells and his bride left for the home of Mrs. Shiells at Victoria. They expect to remain there for a month or six weeks. They are planning then for a much more extended trip. Whether their journey will take them to the Mediterranean country or to South America has not yet been determined. Mr. Shiells is one of the best known residents of Victoria, where he has resided since the early seventies. During the intervening years he has been interested with his brother, William Shiells, in extensive ranching operations, as well as in the development of oil on their lands in the Montebello lease. During the last few years he has traveled extensively, his journeys taking him to many parts of the world. His many friends here will wish him success and happiness on his voyage over matrimonial seas.—Fillmore Herald.

Backache

Backache is the outstanding symptom of kidney disease. Women often make the mistake of attributing other causes and overlooking the derangement of the kidneys until serious developments have made it difficult to obtain permanent relief.

This letter points to a treatment which has been so thoroughly tried and proven so effective in the great majority of cases that you cannot afford to overlook it when cause arises for its use.

Mrs. Albert Brunet, R.R. No. 1, Ottawa, Ont., writes:

"I have used Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills for the past two months, having been afflicted with kidney trouble. I used two doctors' medicine previous to this, without any good results. A friend told me to use Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, and the second box made me feel a good deal better. I have now used about six or eight boxes, and am completely relieved."

HOUSE STANDS BY GOVERNMENT'S COURSE

Opposition Criticism Relative to Nicomen Island Protective Measures Is Repudiated by Government Majority

The opposition attempt to voice its objection to the motion for the address in reply to the Speech from the Throne was defeated in the Legislature yesterday when the amendment moved by Mr. J. A. Catherwood, Conservative member for Dewdney, to the effect that the House regretted the attitude of the Government in connection with Nicomen Island dyking area for effective action towards securing their dykes against destruction by erosion of the river banks, was defeated by a vote of 25 to 13.

According to practice, the Opposition amendment was brought in, not with the idea of securing a snap judgment against the Government, but to voice opposition to the Government's course.

Following the address by Attorney-General Farris yesterday afternoon this division was taken on the amendment proposed by Mr. Catherwood. It was easily defeated by the Government forces, the Labour members of the House staying out of the Chamber and refusing to vote on the ground that the debate was primarily designed for effect in the forthcoming Federal election in which they are not interested, and, further, they objected to the time of the House being taken up with discussion on such subjects when there was before the House the important question relative to the present question of unemployment, a subject of vital interest to the Province than that of the protection of Nicomen Island from Fraser River floods. The decision on the amendment put forward by the member for Dewdney resulted in the following vote:

For the amendment—Messrs. McRae, Catherwood, Pearson, McDonald, Ealing, Schofield, Hunter, Lieter, W. A. McKenzie, Jones, Bower and Dr. Rose.

Against the amendment—Messrs. Duncan, Menzies, Clearthorpe, Jackson, Patterson, Perry, Torrance, C. C. MacDonald, Anderson, Sutherland, King, Oliver, Harris, Silver, Hambleton, Kergin, J. A. Mackenzie, Pauline, Buckham, Whitehead, Mrs. Smith, Barrow, Hart, Pattullo and MacLean.

A Trustee The member for Delta at first declared that if there was any speaking in the House and more business performed, the sessions would not continue to the length they do. He made reference to the leader of the opposition who, he claimed, "can throw up more political insinuations with the facts than anyone in the House."

Touching on conditions on Nicomen Island and observations made by him on a visit in company with the member for New Westminster, Mr. Patterson claimed that the road running on the north side of the Island had evidently been constructed with the idea of its being used as a dyke. The Island consisted of 4,000 acres, of which 2,000 were in a state of cultivation. He estimated cost of providing protection in the form of dykes at $300,000, and by deducting the $600 acres owned by returned soldier settlers, who were looked after by Ottawa, it was a question whether the land would be able to bear such a burden.

"If the province tries to control the Fraser River," Mr. Patterson claimed, "it would eat up all the revenue the Provincial Government obtained." He could not see the need of such an amendment being moved, especially when the member for New Westminster had discovered that the Dominion Government had no plans for dyking work any longer. He admitted that protection had been granted to the Delta district, but there, he stated, the land assessment was $4 an acre and the dykes cost cents levied at Nicomen Island. He intended to vote against the amendment.

Cowichan Member Curious As if indicating the way he would vote, Mr. Kenneth Duncan rose to ask the member for Dewdney whether he would not commit the amendment would not commit the province to a grave precedent in the matter of spending money.

To this Mr. Catherwood replied that the province had been spending money on such work for years.

Attorney-General Farris referred to his entrance into the Chamber at his maiden speech on the debate. There were a few matters which required explanation. One of these was the criticism based on the fact that to members' pensions. A false impression was abroad, he claimed, when he went on to explain that the Legislature at the last sitting had appropriated $400,000 to carry on the work, that figure being based on an estimate gathered by a commission at the head of which had been Mr. E. S. H. Winn, of the Workmen's Compensation Board. The appropriation had proved to be too small, and the province was now spending pensions at the rate of $400,000 a year, compared with the $400,000 appropriated, and additional money would be asked for at this session. There was no intention on the part of the Government to curtail the payments.

Referring to the amendment introduced by the member for Dewdney, Hon. Mr. Farris claimed that it was significant to all that it was a vote of want of confidence in the Government. It was directed against the Premier in particular. In looking into the details connected with past work on the Island he had come to the conclusion that the agreement made by the late Government to raise the road running through the Island and so make it a dyke had not been carried out. Therefore, he considered, the first vote of censure should not be directed against the present Government, but against the leader of the opposition, who could not show that any work was performed on the road since the last session of the Legislature-Bowser Government. The late Government actually built the road no higher than the adjoining road. Either there was no intention, or else it was repudiated by word or deed by the Government. He was not on his feet to state that there was no obligation on the part of the present Government to carry out such a promise, but he did ask how could the opposition leader's conscience allow him to support the amendment submitted by his follower.

The Charges There were three allegations contained in the amendment, claimed the Attorney-General. One was the failure to live up to the agreement; the second was that the unfortunate settlers had been refused assistance; and the third that the present Government had failed to co-operate with the United States Government in the dykes but also on river protection. In regard to the second allegation, Hon. Mr. Farris referred to the action of the Premier, when Minister of Agriculture in 1917, in coming before the Legislature and asking the members to put the Government's name on the back of the agreement for $17,000 in connection with Nicomen Island dyking work. Not only was the principal guaranteed, but three years of back interest was assumed. Later on, when the Land Settlement Board superseded the Dyking Commission, a sum of $26,000 was spent on temporary dykes, making a total of over $100,000 assumed by the province. In 1917 there was a vote of $10,000 for assisting dykes on the Island, the vote having a proviso that the Federal Government would provide adequate river bank protection.

It was poor policy to build a house on sand or to spend money by throwing it in a sink hole and watching it disappear. The Provincial and Federal governments have got to agree on a permanent policy. They had to make provision to remove the unfortunate men and women located there, or go ahead with expenditures which will show results.

Hon. Mr. Farris referred to the offer made by Ottawa in April of this year suggesting that the two governments should go in together on a fifty-fifty basis on river bank protection.

It involved too many principles, especially at a time when the Legislature was not sitting. He also referred to the memo of the committee of the Vancouver Board of Trade suggesting what should be done to assist the settlers. Yet, claimed Mr. Farris, there were other members of the organization appearing before the members telling them what to do to keep down taxation. He ridiculed Mr. W. G. McQuarrie's suggestion that the amount at stake only amounted to $100,000, and that the provincial share of this amount would only be $20,000. If that were the case, he claimed, the Premier would have refused to accept the Vancouver conference willing and anxious that such a vote be passed by the Government.

Up to Ottawa?

Engineer Mac's report on the situation at the Island was referred to by the Attorney-General, who cited the offensive system as proposed which would mean the diversion of the course of the Fraser River, a work which cost entirely under the jurisdiction of the Federal Government. As to the "better terms" conference held in Ottawa some years ago when the Premier of this Province left the conference and "slammed" the door back of him, Hon. Mr. Farris claimed that the position of British Columbia had not improved since then.

Citing an example, the Attorney-General pointed to the tax on liquor imposed by Ottawa which was taking two million dollars a year from the Province and was applied to two provinces of the whole of the Dominion. The tendency of the Federal Government had been to encroach on provincial rights. They were bleeding the provinces white in more ways than one, he claimed, and the leader of the Opposition, he said, had not improved matters when, years ago, he offered to turn over the foreshore of False Creek in Vancouver to the Dominion Government on the plea that harbor improvements were necessary in that city.

In conclusion, the Attorney-General declared the Premier had given the assurance that the Government is prepared to do all that is as far as the finances of the Province would permit, provided a policy was adopted that would give permanent relief to settlers on Nicomen Island. He said the same time, assuring that the money was not squandered. He quoted from the Premier's declaration to the Vancouver Board of Trade that if the Dominion would provide river bank protection he would advocate in the Legislature aid to the settlers in putting in a dyke, and that unless the Federal assistance was forthcoming the Province would not act. That was a fair and reasonable attitude, Hon. Mr. Farris maintained.

The amendment, seeking as it did to place blame on the Provincial Government, and without a single suggestion of policy, was not the way to deal with a serious public question or with the unfortunate settlers and it should be defeated by the House.

Mr. Catherwood sought to reply to the Attorney-General, but was ruled out of order by Mr. Speaker, who pointed to the fact that the member for Dewdney had already spoken on the amendment.

The House then divided on the amendment, which was lost by a vote of 26 to 13.

HEADS THAT ACHE AND PAIN

It is hard to drag along with a head that aches and pains all the time.

In nine cases out of ten, persistent headaches are due to poisoned blood, the blood being rendered impure through some derangement of the stomach, liver or bowels, but the matter which organ is to blame, the cause must be removed before permanent relief can be obtained.

BURDOCK BLOOD BITTERS which has been on the market for the past forty-five years, removes the cause of the headache by starting the organs of elimination acting freely, and when the impurities are carried off from the system, purified blood circulates in the brain cells, and the aches and pains vanish.

Miss Clara Murphy, Centre Dummer, Ont., writes:—"My system was greatly run down and my blood out of order. I suffered a great deal from severe pains in my head which made me feel very miserable. After having tried other remedies, I purchased a bottle of Burdock Blood Bitters, and was very glad to notice a decided improvement in my health. I took another bottle and it has done me an enormous amount of good. I have recommended it to some of my friends who were in a similar condition and they all say it is a wonderful remedy."

APPLE GRADE MARKS

Agricultural Bulletin Says Local Fruit Suffers in Prairie Market by Being Classed With U.S. Product

"One matter of interest to the future marketing of British Columbia boxed apples is the grade mark," says the current issue of The Market Bulletin, published by the Federal Department of Agriculture. It points out that an opportunity will be given shippers during the present month to meet in Toronto to discuss matters relating to the Inspections and Sales Act of Canada.

The Bulletin adds that our competition is from the Western States, from where only boxed apples are shipped. The box and barrel standards should be separated, for they are not and never can be compared. We are making a great mistake by marketing boxes and barrels of apples by the same grade mark, the statement advises. "What does concern us is to be equal to our competitors, adopt their standards and live up to them. We suffer by comparing No. 1 with Extra Fancy; No. 2 by Fancy and No. 3 by C. Grade.

"We send annually cars of apples to the prairie equal to the best Western Extra Fancy, and jobbers persist in classing them with C. Grade apples. Many of the C. Grade would pass the Dominion standard for No. 1. The Okanagan standard is far superior to the law's requirements, which are set from the Washington Extra Fancy requirements." "How much longer are we going to continue to lose money and prestige by sticking to a standard that does not standardize," the circular asks.

SCHOOL PROBLEMS UNDER DISCUSSION

Sir James Douglas Parent-Teachers' Association met in the school on the evening of November 1.

Mr. May, Provincial School Inspector, addressed the meeting on the development and aims of the association, showing how it might bring the home and school closer together. It might also overcome the difficulty experienced by pupils coming from other parts of the world to attend school. Through the association all parents became better acquainted with the aims of the school. The speaker noted the misunderstanding in regard to innovations, such as manual training, domestic science, school gardens, medical examinations and dental clinics. Proper questions for the consideration of the parents and teachers were: Is the curriculum satisfactory? What about the defective child? Is the standard of teachers high enough?

Mr. Ernest Campbell then outlined the grading of the classes in the school and the course of study. The discussion on this paper showed the deep interest of the parents in the school organization.

there's no sense in these things, yet being Scotch they live forever. The first man I saw early this morning on the street in front of the hotel were two weather-beaten old chaps, with grey beards under their chins. "Guddidd Murrin, murrin, murrin, murrin," said the other, and they trudged on. They'd de-throne kings before they'd have differed or drop their burrs and guttural or cover their knees of cause lying about the bagpipes. And you can't get it out of the blood.

English Character
Four months later, on December 27, 1917, we and him, trying hard to understand the secrets of the English character. He is writing to another son, Mr. Frank Page:—
This island is, so far as I know, the most beautiful part of the earth. It rains a little every few days, never hard; but it's never dry. Every inch of England, therefore, is green, except the rocky moorland pavements; and there is no end of flowers. Everything that requires dampness grows to perfection and—nothing else. The sun you are once in a while, while And it never gets cold—hardly as cold here as you have it in your part of North Carolina. Of course the land is packed with people, and there are about eight million in London, in addition to all the other big cities.

It's amazing how well they do some things and how badly they do others. They do know how to live—(I'll come to the mechanical conveniences of living. They wouldn't heat a bath-room to save your soul. They build a fire in your bedroom at night, but you couldn't get one in the morning if you had to be hanged. You simply can't use the telephone. The instructions and service are so bad. Yet the post office and the telegraph are amazingly good. There isn't a decent or clean barber shop in London. You can't buy a morning paper without going a mile. Instead of heating their houses they wrap themselves in shawls and put blankets over their legs when they come in. Yet they are amazingly vigorous. I know many old men who are still at work as hard as ever—past 85 years old. There are two more things who are going a mile. A damp climate seems good for them; and the animal we call man surely doesn't require sunshine.

But they do things in the world, and do them mightily well. How they do what they do, doing it as they do, I can't make out. Their trade is bigger this year than it ever was. They own more ships than ever; they build 'em all the while; they are richer than anybody else in the world. Give me guns and armor for other nations; they supply most of the world with all sorts of manufactured things—and yet they live and work without half the mechanical conveniences that we have. You see donkey carts in London itself, and they carry milk around in little carts that men push. You come to the conclusion after awhile that a man and a nation does what it does because of its organization rather than for any other reason. They have no eggs and butter organizations, but they have admirable financial organization, and they do the banking of the world. They have shipping organizations, and they do the trade of the world. They insure cargoes, and they do the marine insurance of the world. It's your organization that they do the trick of.

The Foreign Office of this Government seems to me to be about the best organization in the world. Every day the Chief Secretary (corresponding to our Secretary of State) writes out a brief of every conversation he has had that day about anything in the world, and it is filed away. There are thus daily records of everything that the Government has ever done with all other governments since the beginning.

We've got whole worlds of advantages over them, if we only had well trained and as patient a great body of workers. One of these days, of course, we'll catch up with them. You see they've got the capital of the world. They have it down from generation to generation, and they've been doing this for more than 700 years. They've preserved it, too, and add to it. You don't often hear of spendthrifts. They spend, of course, but they spend within their permanent income. They buy land in Africa, in Canada—all over the world. The nation that has the biggest capital has an enormous advantage over every other sort of nation. That's the secret of English strength.

Scotch Traits
When he first came to London as Ambassador Mr. Page set himself earnestly to study the people of these islands and to try to understand us in September, 1913, we found him writing from Elgin to his son, Mr. Arthur Page:—
Your mother and Kitty (his daughter, now Mrs. Loring) and I are on our way to see Andy (Mr. Andrew Carnegie). Had you any idea that to motor from London to Elgin means driving more than 800 miles? Our speedometer now shows more than 700 and we've another day to go—at least 120 miles. And we haven't even had a tire accident. Andy of course, is merely a good excuse to come driving to see England and Scotland. We're having a delightful journey—only this country gives neither vegetables nor fruit, and we have to live on oatmeal. They spell it p-o-t-a-t-o, and they call it potato.

I've never understood the Scotch. I think they are, without doubt, the most capable race in the world. But how came to be so and how they keep up their character and supremacy and keep breeding true needs explanation. And you come through this country and you see the most monstrous and dingy little houses and thousands of robust children, all dirtier than niggers. The country people seem desperately poor. But they don't lose their robustness. In the solid cities—the solidest you ever saw, all being of granite—such as Edinburgh and Aberdeen, where you see the prosperous class, they look the sturdiest and most independent fellows you ever saw. As they grow old they look like blue-eyed Presbyterian elders. Scotch in the marrow, everybody and everything seems—bar knees alike on the street and in the hotel with dress-coats on, bagpipes—enough, enough I say, even for a man who doesn't run away from responsibility nor weary of toil. And God knows how it has changed me. I am changing me! I sometimes wonder, as a merely intellectual and quiet impersonal curiosity.

Strangely enough, I keep pretty well—very well in fact. Perhaps I've learned how to live more wisely than I knew in the old days; perhaps, again, I owe it to my old grandfather, who lived (and enjoyed) 94 years. I have walked 10 miles today, and I all down as the clock strikes 11 (p.m.) to write this letter.

You will recall more clearly than I certain horrible, catastrophic, universal ruin passages in Revelation—monsters swallowing the universe, blood and fire and clouds and an eternal crash, rolling ruin enveloping all things—well, all that's come. There are, perhaps, 10 million men dead, of this war, and perhaps 100 million persons to whom death would be a blessing. Add to these as many million more whose views of life are so distorted that blank idleness would be a better mental outlook, and you'll get a hint (and only a hint) of what the continent has already become—a bankrupt slaughterhouse inhabited by untrained women. We have talked of "problems" in our day. We never had a problem; for the worst task we ever saw was a more blithe pastime compared with what these women and the few men that will remain here must face. The hills about Verdun are not blown to pieces worse than the whole social structure and intellectual and spiritual life of Europe. I wonder that anybody is sane.

Shoulder to Shoulder
As the world stands, the United States and Great Britain must work together and stand together to keep the predatory nations in order. A league to enforce peace and the President's idea of disbanding all navies are all in the right direction, but vague and general and cumbersome, a sort of bastard children of neutrality. The thing, the only thing that is a perfect understanding between the English-speaking people, that's necessary, and that's all that's necessary. We must boldly take the lead in that. We are the bigger, having about three white men to every two in the British Empire. I frankly tell my friends here that the English have got to throw away their damned arrogance and their insularity (monkeys, white spats, wrist watches, their oh-ah's and studhorse waistcoats and titles and top hats, etc., etc., etc.), and that we Americans have got to throw away our provincial ignorance ("What is 'abroad' to us?") and our Irish agitators, and shoot our hyphens and bring up our children with reverence for English history and in the awe of English literature. That is the only job in the world worth the whole sweat and energy of all first-class, thoroughbred English-speaking men. We must lead. We are natural leaders. The English must be driven to lead. Item: We must get their lads into our universities, ours into theirs. They don't know how to do it, except the little dribs of Rhodes men. Think this out, remembering what from we've been about exchange professors with Germany.

MIKE GIBBONS HISSSED

AFTER WINNING BOUT

Got Decision on Points After Fifteen Rounds With Happy Littleton—An Unsatisfactory Fight

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 3.—Mike Gibbons of St. Paul was given the decision over Harry Littleton of New Orleans in a 15-round boxing bout here Monday. Gibbons was knocked down twice and toward the close was booed and hissed by the crowd.

Gibbons weighed 160 1/2 and Littleton 160 pounds. In the first round Gibbons was floored and took a count of nine. He was knocked down in the twelfth, putting in a claim of foul, which was disallowed. In the opinion of local sport writers, Littleton had the better of the infighting. The bout was marred by constant wrangling over technicalities.

I.B.A.A. BASKETBALL

House League Off to Good Start—Bob Travis Again in the Wars

The James Bay Athletic House League got off to a fine start on Wednesday evening, when the opening match of their basketball schedule was played. The game was between the Hawks and Bees, the latter team winning by 26-25. The game was most exciting, as the score indicates, and the result of the tussle was in doubt until the very last basket was made. Bob Travis, the popular local sportsman, had the misfortune to get hurt during the match. The teams lined up as follows:

Hawks—Travis (capt.), Gill, MacLaughlin, Hagstone, Bob Edeen and Aubrey Wallis.
Bees—Laudman (capt.), A. Anderson, D. Pauline, G. Wallis and H. L. Johnson.

Gas, Indigestion, Stomach Misery

—"Diapepsin"

"Pap's Diapepsin" "really does" put bad stomachs in order—"really does" overcome indigestion, dyspepsia, gas, heartburn and sourness in five minutes—that's just that—makes Pap's Diapepsin the largest-selling stomach regulator in the world. If what you eat ferments into stubborn lumps, you belch gas and eructate sour, undigested food and acid; head is dizzy and aches, remember the moment "Pap's Diapepsin" comes in contact with the stomach all such distress vanishes. It's a truly astonishing—almost marvelous—and the joy is its harmlessness. A large sixty-cent case of Pap's Diapepsin is worth its weight in gold to men and women who can't get their stomachs regulated. It belongs in your home—should always be kept handy in case of a sick, sour, upset stomach during the day or at night. It's the most efficient antacid and stomach regulator in the world. (Adv.)

LANDIS HOLDS OUT

RUTH'S SHARE OF WORLD SERIES COIN

NEW YORK, Nov. 3.—Dabe Ruth's share of the world's series receipts together with the share of both Meusel and Pierrey, who accompanied Ruth on the barnstorming tour, though warned they were violating baseball rules, remain unpaid. It was learned today.

Distribution of the players' share of the series money is directed by the commissioner, Judge Landis. When Judge Landis learned of Ruth's exhibition tour in defiance of orders, he said he sent word to the owners of the Yankee team of his intention to hold up the offenders' shares of this money. It is said, which might have caused Ruth to abandon his tour.

Ruth, Meusel and Pierrey each have a claim of $2,243. Twenty-five members of the Yankee team come in for full shares and all have been paid with the exception of these three players.

GEDEON IS OUTLAWED

Tainted by Bribery Charge—Cannot Play in Organized Baseball

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 3.—Players in organized baseball may not play in games in which Joe Gedeon plays. Judge K. M. Landis, baseball commissioner, declared in a telegram received here today by W. H. McCarthy, president of the Pacific Coast Baseball League, Gedeon, a former Coast League player, while playing with the St. Louis Americans he was known to be a gambler. McCarthy said he was told of an attempt to bribe the Chicago White Sox, and he was barred from playing. As Gedeon planned to play in a game in Minneapolis, Minn., on Saturday, McCarthy wired Judge Landis several days ago asking for a ruling on the player's standing.

BENNY KAUFF'S CASE

HAS BEEN POSTPONED

NEW YORK, Nov. 3.—The hearing on behalf of Benny Kauff for permanent injunction from playing ball in the National League, from preventing him from playing ball in the National League, has been postponed until November 22. Kauff secured a temporary injunction a month ago. If the injunction is made permanent the baseball officials can not prevent Kauff playing, providing any club wants his services. It has been reported the giants plan to trade him to Cincinnati as part of their deal for Heinie Groh.

ENGLISHWOMEN PILE UP BIG SCORE IN GRASS HOCKEY GAME

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Nov. 2.—The English women's hockey team added another win to their unbroken string of victories on their tour of this country by defeating the Sergeant School of Physical Education here today, eleven to one.

McGRAW SATISFIED WITH OLD LINE-UP

NEW YORK, Nov. 3.—John McGraw will make the 1922 race with the same team, the Giant chiefs said before leaving on his vacation. He said negotiations had not been renewed with the Cincinnati Reds for the services of Heinie Groh.

C.P.R. SOCIAL CLUB

TO HAVE NEW GROUND

Company Gives Use of Site for Tennis Courts and Bowling Green—Will Defray Cost of Construction

The sporting activities of the C. P. R. Social Club have received a welcome boost through the much-appreciated action of the company in furthering their facilities for at least two branches of sport. The company has granted the use of their piece of land at the corner of Belleville and Menzies Streets, opposite their wharf offices, for the construction of two tennis courts and a bowling green, and will defray the cost of getting the courts and green ready for play before next summer brings these forms of sport into season again.

The C. P. R. Social Club has a large membership and will no doubt come rapidly to the fore in the athletic world. Football and baseball are included already in their activities, and it is expected that a large number of the club's members will avail themselves of the new opportunities afforded by such an excellent centrally-situated ground.

AN AMERICAN ON GREAT BRITAIN

(London Times)

Few men played a more beneficial role in the Great War than did the late W. H. Page, then American Ambassador in London. The greatness of his work was at the time of the war itself. The noise of the guns drowned all else, and it is only as the secret history of those times comes to be written—as men die and their private papers are given to the world—that we can begin to see many things clearly. There have lately been published, conspicuously in a series of articles now appearing on both sides of the Atlantic in the magazine the World's Work, a number of Mr. Page's private letters, and a further number have been placed in the hands of the present writer. The trouble, of course, is that an immense proportion of what he then wrote in confidence to his friends is still confidential. As he says himself in one of these letters: "Much of this cannot be told till most of the men are dead, and many of them will outlive me."

Mr. Page's ruling passion in life was what he would have called his democracy; his sympathy with people, British and American, and his consuming desire to understand and help them. One reads his broad humanity in everything he writes. More than this, the conviction grew on him that the highest possibilities of the future of mankind could only be realized by co-operation between the English-speaking peoples. Britain, he believed, to be "inevitable partners" to work together in the world's welfare.

When he first came to London as Ambassador Mr. Page set himself earnestly to study the people of these islands and to try to understand us in September, 1913, we found him writing from Elgin to his son, Mr. Arthur Page:—
Your mother and Kitty (his daughter, now Mrs. Loring) and I are on our way to see Andy (Mr. Andrew Carnegie). Had you any idea that to motor from London to Elgin means driving more than 800 miles? ## NIAGARA TO ARRIVE TOMORROW AT NOON

Delegates From New Zealand and Australia to Washington Conference Will Reach Here on Liner

The liner Niagara, of the Canadian Pacific line, will reach quarantine at eleven o'clock tomorrow morning, according to advice reaching the Canadian Pacific office here late yesterday. The vessel should come in to dock at noon, or shortly afterwards.

The Niagara has about 200 first class passengers. The Hon. George Foster, Minister of Defence and Senator from Western Australia in the federal parliament, is aboard the liner, going to Washington to represent the Commonwealth at the conference. He is accompanied by Mr. G. S. Knowles, assistant parliamentary draftsman in the solicitor-general's office of the attorney-general's department; by Major E. L. Plasse, who is in the office of the Prime Minister in charge of Pacific questions; and by his secretary, Mr. Douglas H. Reid.

Sir John W. Balmain, for the past ten years solicitor-general for New Zealand, is also believed to be a passenger on the Niagara with the same destination and with the same official purpose. He has had a distinguished career as a jurist and writer on legal subjects.

HAIRCUTS SAFEGUARD MARINERS IN DANGER

Norwegian Crew Offer Sacrifice to Storm God in Shape of Shorn Locks—Waters Calmed

NEW YORK, Nov. 3.—There came into New York the other day a Norwegian steamer several days overdue because of heavy weather. During the first half of her voyage she encountered gales and tremendous seas which threatened to engulf her. Then, when things were at their worst, the captain roused all hands and had their hair cut. The storm ceased and the ship had good weather for the rest of the trip. The captain said he ordered the hair-cutting because he had heard that his Viking ancestors had performed the same rite in similar straits. Here is a most interesting case of "revelation to type."

had done that same thing in the days when Odin gloried and drank deep in Valhalla. Among the ancients the hair, being considered as a peculiarly intimate part of a man—sometimes as the seat of strength—was frequently cut and offered up as a sacrifice to the gods. Juvenal says that the hair should only be cut at sea in times of danger and as a final offering to the gods, as it would offend them to cut it at other times.

In the Norse Sagas Odin is represented as the great storm-god, sweeping the seas with warriors in his train. So the Vikings appeased his wrath by the propitiatory offering of their hair even as did their descendants the other day on the storm-tossed Norwegian steamer. A shorn crew at a Brooklyn pier who have just sacrificed to Odin makes "the persistence of the primitive" something more than a theory.

NEW YORK, Nov. 3.—Halifax is to be made a port of call this winter for the big steamers of the Red Star Line, according to announcement made by the International Mercantile Marine. These boats are the Lapland, Finland, Kronland and Zealand.

SAY BRITISH SHIPS THREATEN AMERICAN

Legislation Opening Alaska Trade to British Opposed—American Ports Already Too Idle, Is Claim

WASHINGTON, Nov. 3.—Proposed legislation which would permit British-owned ships to engage in Alaskan coastwise trade was opposed before a House committee today by W. L. Clark, of Seattle, representing the National Merchant Marine Association.

Urging Congress not to pave the way for the breaking down of the American coastwise trade, Mr. Clark declared that Canadian Government-owned railroads were diverting grain to Canadian ports for shipment abroad and the ports at Montreal and Georgian Bay were congested, "while American ships and American ports are idle."

British shippers, he said, were trying every method to "break into our coastwise trade."

He contended that Alaskan waters ought not to be made free for foreign ships either in the fisheries trade or transportation service.

New Orleans Strike Over

PANAMA CANAL HAS PROVED ITS WORTH

Vessels Save Considerable Time and Money, But Ocean Gate Barely Subsists on the Income From Tolls

WASHINGTON, D.C., Nov. 3.—"The interchange of some of the largest battleships in the American navy between the Atlantic and Pacific seas through the Panama Canal shows that the big waterway is fulfilling along the lines laid down for it when the United States undertook the task of constructing a seaway between the two Americas," says a bulletin just issued by the National Geographic Society.

"When the work of building the canal was undertaken," the bulletin continues, "no one dreamed what a tremendous amount of material would have to be moved to make it a usable waterway such as it is today."

At that time it was figured that the total excavations for the proper would be 101,000,000 cubic yards. But by reason of enlargements and slides the task continued to grow until approximately a quarter of a billion cubic yards of material had to be removed. The rail distance from the Union Station, Washington, D.C., to the Pennsylvania Terminal, New York, is approximately 228 miles. Imagine instead of the roadbed a canal with vertical banks, 45 feet deep and 124 feet wide—deep and wide enough to accommodate the biggest ship that floats, and connecting the nation's metropolis with the country's capital—and you will have a picture of the amount of material that had to be removed to make the great Isthmian highway a completed project.

$12,000 for 10,000 Tons

"The saving effected by ships using the canal, however, more than justified the hopes of the government in undertaking its construction. In pre-war days the cost of maintaining a freighter in commission was approximately 10 cents per net registered ton per day. Thus a 10,000-ton steamship cost for maintenance about $1,000 a day. Its average speed was around 250 knots a day. On the trip from New York to San Francisco there is a saving of 32 days. With such a ship this extra distance would cost on the basis of pre-war prices, $32,000. On the basis of present prices it would cost about $50,000. The vessel, by using the canal in pre-war days, paying $1.20 per net registered ton, or $12,000, saved its own crew or charterers $21,000. On the basis of present-day prices the saving amounts to nearly $40,000. If, as is now planned, the coastwise shipping using the canal is exempted from the payment of tolls, a 10,000-ton steamer will save $12,000 every time it passes through the canal. In tolls, and at least $23,000 in distance eliminated."

Thousands of Dollars Saved
"While it looks rather high to think of a 10,000-ton ship like the Orizaba paying $12,000 for an eight-hour trip through the canal, yet to choose that route between the east and west coasts of the United States over the Magellan route would save upward of $50,000 on the trip."

"The present income from the canal is barely sufficient to pay the mere costs of operation, with no allowance whatever for depreciation or interest on the investment. As the canal cost $242,000,000, and as the Government has to pay at least 5 per cent for money borrowed today, it will be seen that interest charges alone would amount to $18,000,000 a year."

BATTERED AND WORN BY ARCTIC STRUGGLE

Hudson's Bay Company's Ship Reached Point Never Before Visited by Vessels—Brings Bear South

VANCOUVER, Nov. 3.—With her paint battered and worn, her masts and decks showing the signs of service, but with her hull as sound and as smooth as when she was launched, the Hudson's Bay Company's motor schooner Lady Kindersley, Captain G. Poelner, docked at the Fraser, Coleman & Evans dock from the Arctic Ocean. She brought a rich cargo of furs from the Far Northern ports, and a very lively polar bear, christened "Barrow," which will be presented to the Stanley Park Zoo by Mr. H. T. Lockyer, of the Hudson's Bay Company's store here.

The officers and men of the Lady Kindersley have nothing out of the ordinary happenings of an Arctic voyage to report. The ship encountered storms, ice, blizzards, Eskimo, seal, walrus, discharged much freight, and took on a large quantity of furs. The voyage extended into Coronation Gulf, a point never before reached by ships.

In passing from Point Barrow to Herschel Island they found themselves among ice floes with thick fog settling down, and with the propeller at a standstill. The ship was forced to short halt was made at the examination of the boundary between Alaska and Canada. They met the schooner Herman, Captain Peterson, and the schooner Herchel Island, Captain Peterson, who were very ill, went into hospital. On the same trip they carried Miss Roberts, a young girl who had gone north by way of Mackenzie River to marry the missionary at Point Barrow, Mr. Merritt.

The place in the saloon of the Lady Kindersley was the occasion of much merriment.

Speaking of the visit to Bernard Harbor, one of the officers of the vessel said while there had been no serious adventures, there was much to interest a visitor. They had seen herds of walrus in the water, but on the land they were few. They had seen a herd of reindeer and a herd of caribou. There was little animal or bird life anywhere. They had fresh reindeer meat at Point Barrow, which they liked very much, and at other times they ate caribou, polar bear meat, walrus and wild duck. The bear, walrus and duck had a fishy flavor, but was a nice change from salt pork. The Eskimos, the Tsimshians and Bernard Harbor seemed to be peculiar people. At Herschel Island there were several women, but not many children. They had vegetables and fruit taken North the tomatoes went bad, but oranges and lemons kept well and were much appreciated. The officers and men were glad to be back in civilization again after their arduous and somewhat lonely life.

CUNARD LAUNCHED FOR CANADIAN ROUTE

Lady Perley Sponsors Andania—Tyne-Built Liner Expected to Be in Commission Next Spring

LONDON, Nov. 3.—The Cunard Andania, designed for the Canadian route, was launched at Heburn-on-Tyne, Tuesday. Lady Perley, performing the christening ceremony.

The Andania is 540 feet long, 65 feet broad and 43 feet deep, and her capacity is 14,000 tons and speed 14 knots. The new boat is expected to be ready for commission next spring. She will have accommodation for 500 cabin and 1,200 third class passengers. No other classes are provided for. She will burn oil as fuel, and some of the innovations are a veranda cafe and spacious playground for the children.

Sir Thomas Royden, president, at a luncheon, said the company hoped to run a regular service to Canada.

SUPER-QUALITY SERGES

"King's Own" Serge Available in Semi-Ready Suits

The finer grades of English serges—woven from the best wool yarns—are now $50 and $55—suitings which sold at $75 and $80 a year ago. It is on staple cloths that the real difference in price can be judged.

The Semi-ready Suits have a big advantage in the selling of fine serges, for their woollens are woven by the English branch of the Semi-ready Company and are sold direct from maker to wearer. "King's Own" serge suits are now available at $45 and $50. Nos. 3462 and 3503. Since these cloths were made wool has advanced 15 per cent.

Mearns & Fuller say that they have all the new styles and patterns in genuine Semi-ready suits. (Adv.)

STEVEDORES REFUSE TO WORK STEAMER

Dispute Arises Over Use of Crew in Loading Lumber on Rider Hanify—Unemployed Fill Breach

The refusal of Captain L. E. Olson, of the American steamer Rider Hanify, loading 600,000 feet of lumber for San Francisco at the Canadian Upper Harbor, to comply with the demands of Victoria longshoremen and refrain from using his crew to assist with the loading operations, resulted in the stevedores ceasing work and walking out on Wednesday afternoon.

Their action did not hamper the steamer very seriously, as part gangs continued the work during that day, and yesterday morning full squads, recruited without difficulty from among the city unemployed, were busy on the job. The vessel is expected to have her full cargo of sticks stowed away by tonight, when she will clear for San Francisco. The stand of the longshoremen appears to have gained them nothing and to have lost them several days' wages.

The Rider Hanify carries a crew, according to Captain Olson, for no other purpose than to help in the loading. Winchmen and sailors aboard are article stevedores, and this is the first port he has ever been in where their use has been questioned in years of coastwise operation.

The local men insisted on running the winches and tending to the entire job themselves.

UNIDENTIFIED SHIP AFIRE IN ATLANTIC

Tanker Reports Sighting Large Vessel in Flames Four Hundred Miles Out—No Signs of Crew

NEW YORK, Nov. 3.—Local steamship lines had no advice today of a large unidentified vessel afire off the Halifax coast, as reported to the Canadian Naval Department at Halifax by the tanker Skoleline.

All vessels in the area mentioned which have not been heard from today are freighters.

HALIFAX, Nov. 3.—A large vessel, identity at present unknown, is on fire, 400 miles southeast of Halifax, according to a message received this morning by the intelligence branch of the Canadian Naval Department.

The British freighter Skoleline, en route from Port Beaulieu, N.S., reported the sighting of a vessel on fire, 400 miles southeast of Halifax, according to a message received this morning by the intelligence branch of the Canadian Naval Department.

"Steamship Skoleline, lat. 42.33, N.; long. 52.25, W., encircled vessel on fire. Burning fiercely. No sign of crew. Apparently a large vessel."

What's at the Playhouses?

CAPITOL Maurice Tourneur's latest production, "The Foolish Matrons," which takes its name from the novel by Don Byrne, which has the premier showing at the Capitol this week, is a story like a cross section of today's social currents and depicts life in New York City, the city of broken promises, where only the strong can survive and where spiritual courage is worth more than all the cunning in all the world. Charles Meredith will be seen in one of the principal roles of "The Foolish Matrons." The part that Mr. Meredith portrays is one of the strongest that the popular leading man has yet been in, and will place him nearer to the goal of stardom which he is so rapidly approaching.

ROYAL Edwin N. Wallack, who has the role of "Black" McCready in James Oliver Curwood's "Kazan," which will be screened at the Royal Victoria Theatre again today, has the reputation of being one of the best rough-and-ready villains in the films today. In "Kazan" he has a part which gives him plenty of opportunity to exercise his talents as a "bad man." Wallack is a veteran of the speaking stage as well as the screen. He was born in Council Bluffs, Ia., in 1874, and educated at Benedictine University, Atchison, Kansas. He was for 18 years on the stage, appearing with such celebrities as Thomas Keene, Richard Mansfield and Frederick Ward. Miss Ivy Holt, who created such a favorable impression on her first appearance in Victoria last week, will again doubtless please with two new songs, "Out Where the West Begins," and "Stolen Kisses." With a good comedy and a scenic, the rest of the programme is of the same high-class order.

VARIETY Thousands of people who go to Maine to revel in the scenic beauty of its mountains, lakes and rivers, never realize that those same lakes and rivers are the arteries of Maine's commerce in lumber and pulp. Maine's vast regions of forests contain thousands of lumbering camps, densely populated in the winter, but deserted in the summer, and along the rivers in the spring of the year, the activities of the "drive" transform streams that were placid in summer into a living, roaring mass of logs and men. From such tremendous situations, environmental and material, Holman Day has woven his splendid tale of the North woods, "The Rider of the King Log," taking for the characters actual living personalities or composites. The Variety Theatre presents this Holman Day-Association Exhibitors picture, "The Rider of the King Log," and holds it as an outdoor drama of adventure and romance that will never be forgotten by virtue of its virility and beauty.

DOMINION Camille, the Roman, beautiful and notorious, ancient as the dawn of history, new and ever-fresh as an April morning, soft as a lullaby and loud as a trumpet blowing, strong in her stately resolutions and tender as threads of gossamer, the inscrutable, passion-swept woman, who gives everything for the supreme love of her life, even to surrendering that love itself; Camille has epitomized for the theatre what Sappho realized through the ages in poetry and Thais in prose. The drama with which Alexander Dumas, the younger, thrilled the world, the drama which afforded the greatest triumphs to the leading actresses of the past generation, is now remade and modernized in motion pictures, with the great Nazimova as Camille.

COLUMBIA The Columbia Theatre is no place for a person with an ingrown grudge and proud of it, for "The Idle Class," Charlie Chaplin's latest comedy, began a three days' run there yesterday as a First National attraction, and it is guaranteed to kill any grudge, no matter how chronic, within the space of a few seconds. While "The Idle Class" is shorter than "The Kid," it is packed with more laughs than one would imagine a two-reeler can hold. Charlie's first appearance on the screen—when he crawls out from under a railroad coach—is the signal for the laughing to start, and the comedian never gives it an opportunity to subside.

voiced an appeal to the House to centre its efforts in constructive work, and stated that the best method of securing permanent party advantage was by quality of service rendered to the people of the Province.

The motion for the address, which had been the basis of the debate covering the past three weeks, was approved. Next week the House will be in a position to get down to some real work when the budget is introduced by the Minister of Finance.

Hon. Mr. Oliver commenced by stating he had listened to the words of the Opposition, but he had heard no single constructive idea. He also referred to the advantage of the Province. On the other hand, he wished to compliment the mover and seconder of the Address and also a member for Richmond who had strongly impressed him, in which fact he stood out in great contrast to his colleagues. He could also compliment Mr. Jones (South Okanagan), on his volubility.

Welcomes Charge
 In regard to the rumors which had been heard, the Premier said he wished to say that if any member would take the responsibility of making a charge he would insist that there be an investigation. Beyond this he had no word to labor the point. Hon. Dr. MacLean's reply as to the cost and efficiency of the civil service would, he considered, establish the correct facts.

Continuing his congratulations, the Premier complimented Canon Hinchliffe on his trip over the P.O.E. as a Sherbrooke Investigator. The member had given the House a mild narrative of his experiences and had mentioned that he had had no free time. The Premier stated that he had also been acquired free of cost.

In reference to the statements of the Minister of Finance (Mr. Ewing), the Premier said that gentleman appeared to have an acute attack of indigestion and was unable to assimilate information. He would like to point out to him that in March 1920, a copy of the contract with Foley, Welch & Stewart had been filed with the clerk of the House, and if the member stated that any information had been kept back from the House, he was stating something which was not a fact.

There had been criticism at Foley, Welch & Stewart having been released from their onerous contract; it had been said that Mr. Foley died worth thirty millions, and the inference was that he should have been compelled to finish the line. Mr. Bowser allowed the bond to lapse, the corporation had defaulted in the interest of its bonds and the Government had had to pay over $600,000 through the default, he claimed. Today, nearly four millions have been invested in the P.G.E. road.

At the present time the Government was facing difficulties, being sued by North Vancouver people for non-completion of agreements in connection with the running of trains, which were conditions of the contract. There were fifteen of these right-of-way agreements, all of which were passing through the hands of Hewer, Reed and Wallbridge. Could they conceive of anything more immoral than the picture of Mr. Fraser sitting on the one side of the House as the Attorney-General and on the other as the solicitor for the P. G. E. and, in this latter capacity, receiving thousands of dollars," he asked.

 Proceeding, the Premier said he thought it was Mr. Ewing who made the statement that the Northern Construction Company were receiving profits by subcontracting work. The company got no profit at all on subcontract work, declared the Premier. The profits made by Foley, Welch and Stewart over sub-contracts were from 75 to 150 per cent, averaging 85.5 per cent. The highest possible profit the Northern Construction Company could make, stated the Premier, was 5 per cent gross. Out of an expenditure of a little over sixteen millions Foley, Welch and Stewart made net profits of $4,787,663. It was, today, costing the people of the Province interest at the rate of $2,900 a day.

Misstatements
 If they cut out the misstatements of the leader of the Opposition there would be nothing left, declared the Premier, who went on to mention that at the present moment, as part of an organized campaign, the Opposition were flooding the Province with circulars to which no name was attached, and therefore giving no information as to who was responsible.

What was the test of extravagance? asked Hon. John Oliver. Did they think it was possible for the Government, paying men $14.0 a day, to do the same as was done by Foley, Welch and Stewart when they were only paying $12.25 a day? Let them compare the cost of the P. G. E. with the C. N. R. on Vancouver Island, the Canadian Northern Kamloops-Kelowna branch, or the C. P. R. Princeton to Copper Mountain branch.

The member for Rossland, continued the Premier, found fault with the auditor's statement, instancing $1,244,155 in comparison with the $1,500,000 of equipment from Foley, Welch and Stewart. The statement, explained the Premier, was one of the best of equipment as it was on the line at the present time, and it also included equipment received from Foley, Welch and Stewart and from the equipment company. The letter from Burns and Waiwan quoted equipment as worth $1,500,000, which purported to be a statement of value.

His Promise
 Referring to his trip to the Peace River country and Mr. Bowser's allegation that while there he had made certain promises to the settlers in the matter of rail connection with the Edmonton-Dunsmuir and British Columbia Railway, the Premier declared he had never made any promise he had reason to be ashamed of.

At Prince George, he stated, he had suggested to the people that as it would probably be years before the P. G. E. could be built into that section from the west that the only hope of rail connection was to include the Alberta Government to lay steel on the old grade of the E. D. & B. C. line westward from Spirit River, and if that could be done the Columbia Government would do all in its power to assist. He had interviewed Premier Stewart, of Alberta. He went at length into his negotiations with Premier Stewart to prove he had done his best to implement the promise made to the settlers there, but he found that the interests of Alberta lay rather to the west than to the east, and that while the Alberta Government had appropriated one million to improve the line, a much larger amount was involved.

Somewhat Mixed
 The Premier admitted that a wire he had sent to Hon. John Hart on the eve of the election, stating he had made arrangements with Alberta whereby construction westward of the E. D. & B. C. line would be carried on, had, through some error, been wrongly worded, but he was ready to take the responsibility for it. He declared Mr. Bowser, when he told the people of Peace Coups that had the Conservative Government not been defeated in 1916 the P. G. E. would have been completed into the Peace River by 1920, knew he was stating something that was untrue. He resented Mr. Bowser's "sneering remarks" concerning the recent legislative junk over the case of the P. G. E., but he recalled one trip the Opposition leader had taken over the line, and he produced a photograph taken on that trip showing members of the then Government and their supporters.

Premier Oliver emphatically denied Mr. Bowser's charge that the William Lake townsite had been changed from a good location to a "bad hole," asserting that no townsite existed there until surveyed by the present Government, and he produced photographs to show the location selected was an excellent one.

Completion of P. G. E.

He referred to the "ridicule" passed by the Finance Minister that no more money would be required for the completion of the road to Prince George. The Premier stated that there was a sufficient balance from the last loan to construct the line to connect with the G. T. F., but it was sufficient to carry the loss on operation and maintenance over next year.

The situation at Squamish was gone, he stated, the Premier referring to the damage of two years ago. Repairs had been made this year, but before the pliedriver had got away no less than 100 feet of the wharf had been swept away. The wharf had been shortened some 110 feet and then it was found that there was insufficient depth for steamers to make a satisfactory landing. Arrangements were made for dredging, but overnight it was discovered that the depth of the water was thirty-six feet where the night previous there had been only twelve feet. The wharf, capped, and on the return of the engineer, the suggestion had been made to divert the stream of this mountain torrent. Before this was attempted, the Premier stated, he had suggested the investigation of a new site.

Making reference to the borrowings by the present Government and also that of the McBride administration, Premier Oliver claimed that the opposition leader had stated that the present Government had added to the public debt some $42,838,000 while that of the late Government had been but twelve million in thirteen years.

Borrowings
 According to figures compiled by the Deputy Minister of Finance, the borrowings of the late Government amounted to $22,158,000, which, added to temporary borrowings which had to be met by the present Government when they assumed office, totaled $25,347,826. Instead of the $42,838,000 borrowings by the Government, the Deputy Minister's figures showed a total borrowing of but $37,443,000, and two millions of this was to meet the obligations of the late Government. Dealing further in statistics, the Premier stated that of the latter amount nearly twenty millions have been sunk in the Pacific Great Eastern, a tremendous obligation, he claimed, on a sparsely populated province.

It had been a nightmare to him, and the situation could not be minimized, the Premier declared. Three and one half millions of this year's borrowing is the obligation put on the people by the Conservative Party, he claimed. He was willing to accept responsibility for work on the road during the time the Government had been in office, but the leader of the opposition "cannot and shall not impute to me the responsibility of the sinking funds."

The Premier referred to the enema levelled at the Finance Minister on the extensive borrowing through American sources. The situation during the past year in connection with the P. G. E. had been such that there had been times when it would have been impossible to obtain the money in Canada. He referred to the press dispatch of the day previous in which it was rumored that the Dominion Government intended to borrow three hundred millions in New York, a Government which the opposition members supported.

With respect to the possible joining up of the Government-owned railway system with a National system, the Premier stated that this matter had engaged his attention, but that up to the present he had not succeeded. He did not know what the future held, but he promised to direct every ounce of his ability in pushing such a scheme through whereby the province would be relieved of the load which is paralyzing the development of British Columbia.

Has His Doubts
 Referring to the Sumas reclamation work concerning which statements had been made that it would cost too much, Premier Oliver admitted that such might prove to be the case, but the Government, he declared, has been making an honest attempt to do the best for the producing power of the lands of the Province. That project might not succeed or it might prove only partially successful, but the Government had been facing a condition of unemployment and it had to meet that condition by providing work which was carried on at the peak of the season, he may be assured. Frankly, he stated, he thought there would be, but there is produced values which will provide future revenue to the Province.

Similarly, in connection with road works, the Premier stated that highway costs were at the peak and if, under present day conditions, the quality of roadway demanded is given, it calls for tremendous outlays. He had some doubts about such outlays and was not always sure the Government was following the right course, but it was endeavoring to give the people of the Province as good service as possible under all the circumstances.

Premier Oliver pointed to the Department of Industries, the loans of which have been curtailed since the beginning of the present year of existing financial conditions. With the exception of some advances made to concerns already assisted, no further loans were being made. The $1,700,000 borrowed under the better housing plan is amply secured, he said, and could the Opposition avail at the financial aid extended to South Vancouver?

Referring to the dinner given by the retiring commissioner for South Vancouver, at which he was guest, and which criticism now directed against him had, it had been paid for out of the municipal funds, Premier Oliver declared he had read that one McKay had expressed himself as disgusted at the Premier attending that function. In his capacity as a public man, he was often invited to such dinners, and he did not consider it his duty to first investigate whether the payments therefor were proper or not, or who was going to pay for it.

Small Staff
 "I have my own impression as to the propriety of charging up that dinner to the Municipality of South Vancouver, but it is a matter for those directly interested. But is it not getting down to the very lowest plane in political life when the time of the House is taken up in discussing whether the money for that dinner was honestly spent?" asked the Premier.

"I appeal to the members to recognize that the Government of British Columbia, confronting huge financial obligations, has a most difficult task to perform. As Premier of this Province, I seek to shelter no man. If a wrong exists, I wish to see that wrong righted. As Premier of this Province, without any evidence showing that a wrong has been done either by my colleagues or by officials of the Government, I will not seek to punish anyone for alleged wrongdoing. If the representatives of the people on the floor of this House have knowledge of wrongdoing, they must take steps to right it. But in doing so we are bound to be guided by the experience of centuries, that no one shall be found guilty until he is proved to be so."

"When anyone seeks to show that I am sheltering wrong, I say I am not guilty. There is one way to secure permanent party advantage and one only, that we give our best service to the people. By quality of that service can we only secure that party advantage. Any other consideration must be based on selfish and unworthy us as citizens and as true Canadians."

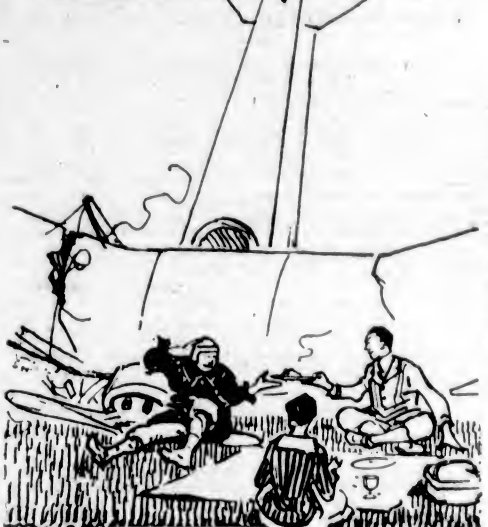

Following the conclusion of the Premier's remarks, the motion for the address, as moved by Mr. J. B. Clearhise, and seconded by Mr. A. D. Paterson, at the opening of the session, was put and carried unanimously.

Then came the formal resolution to the effect that the Address in reply to the Speech of His Honor at the opening of the session be presented to His Honor by the members of the executive council. It was approved.

ST. MICHAEL'S GIRLS GIVE ENTERTAINMENT

Royal Oak Hall was the scene of a Halloween merriment last Saturday, when the St. Michael's Canadian Girls in Training, assisted by members of the Victoria Dramatic Society, gave a very enjoyable entertainment. The hall was decorated with Halloween hangings and favors, and the attendance was large.

There were witches who had charge of admittance, and ghost-like attendants at the candy table and ice cream stall, while ancient dames with wonderfully young hands and figures served up slices of the birthday cake to many customers.

The programme opened with a general hunt for the witches' black cat, which was hidden in numerous places in various parts of the hall. The prize for finding the largest number of pieces of cat was won by Mrs. Ashton.

Musical portions of the programme consisted of pianoforte solos by Miss Flora Musgrave and Miss Malone, and songs by Miss E. Messer and P. Hughes. A monologue given by Norman Buckle brought down the house, and a playlet entitled "St. Martin's Summer," by Capt. and Mrs. Berrill and Miss Butler, was greatly enjoyed. Some very fine violin solos were rendered by Miss May Brown, a clever young performer. Readings were given by Miss Audrey Cotton and P. Hughes.

Treatments were served after the programme, and the sum of $59.50 was added to the fund for the much-needed parish hall for which the young ladies are working. Rev. A. Nixon acted as chairman for the occasion.

tempted to call his book a pageant
England's grandeur, did not the retorical address on "The Patriotism y Scot!" severely rebuke those who sume to think that "every part of he United Kingdom must be English because it is a part of the United Kingdom."

"Man, after all, is not ripened by virtue alone. Were it so, this world were a paradise of angels. Not like the growth of the earth, he is the fruit of all the seasons; the accident of a thousand accidents, a living mystery, moving through the seen to the unseen. . . . How, then, shall we like any one? How, at any rate, shall we judge a giant, great in gifts and great in temptation, great in strength and great in weakness?"

...a barren and windy opposition, seized and grappled with the huge dilemma of Indian administration." In the same spirit in a speech of 1899 commemorating the first London tribute to Oliver Cromwell, Lord Rosebery insisted that the cruelties to the charge of the Protector are not to be allowed to dim the glory of the great ruler and maintainer of British influence and power abroad."

He will go so far as to say that great and potent and powerful as we are, far from banishing his memory, we could find employment for a few of his words. The Cromwells of the 20th century would not be the Cromwells of the 17th century. He would not decapitate; he would not rise in rebellion; he would not speak the words of the prophet, "I will be to you as a father," but he would be to you in his essential as a general, as a leader, as a statesman. He would be generous. He would be sincere. He would not compromise with principles. His faith would be in God and in man, and in the influence of the State as promoter of the "good of the land."

[illegible]

Naturally the most vivid of these traits are those in which personal memory guides the delineator. Among these stand out the fine study of Lord Randolph Churchill, a supplement to a son's biography by an affectionate but discriminating friend:

In January, 1885, Lord Rosebery was in the gallery of the House when the Conservative Government was being defeated by a vote of 160 against 157. Towards the end of the debate he rose towards him went with Lord Randolph to his room to talk things over.

"Of this talk . . . I recollect scarcely anything," said Lord Rosebery to the Lobby, he said, "I remember, 'Well, it is over, but it has not been bad fun.' 'Just what Fleury said of the French revolution,' he said. 'And in that Lobby, however, impressed me more than our subsequent conversation. He said, 'You are quite as we were walking to his room, and I stipulated for a cigar. He had not got one, he said, but would soon get one. He said, 'The man who appeared in the passage, a portly baronet of great wealth. 'There's a man who will have a good cigar,' he said. 'That was all right. I told the clerk to give my friend here; have you got your case?' 'I never shall see you again, at least at present, which the baronet pronounced his case and offered his best and choicest. It was an object-lesson in Randolph's

The account given here of the "striking catastrophe" of Lord Randolph's resignation in 1886 is both instructive and dramatic. The figure of Randolph is made more real by the memories from the preceding essay, which helps us to realize the character of the duel between him and the mercenary liberalism. We perceive that the formidable reality of his shy reserve was this statesman, a man whom, had you met him in the streets of London, you would have taken for a simpleton. But for "some learned literary recluse hurrying, after a visit to the British Museum, back to the study he had regretted leaving the man whom I had never known to come to my laboratory at Hatfield." We see him, with the wary prudence which is the mark of his character, "allowing Lord Randolph to spit himself upon his adversary's points."

It is probable that he was not a zealous nun; yet to his friends and surroundings, if not to himself, it must have been annoying to see the fierce light of public interest turned entirely on Randolph. While the Prime Minister, in reality a greater force, remained unobtrusive in the shade, Lord Salisbury had realized the more poignant fact that he himself was a Tory, and that his young partner was a radical, constantly urging radical measures. The Prime Minister at every subject meeting also minister at every cabinet meeting was being pushed in directions that he detested. "Salisbury," wrote Lord George Hamilton on the 25th of November, "is getting to the position where he will be pressed no more."

So Lord Randolph landed in a resignation which he hardly thought could be taken as definite, and "the machine" crushed him as easily as a parched pea. Lord Rosebery goes in to some rather malicious criticism of "Tory Democracy." It was,

...says, "useful degeneration or emasculation for anyone who found himself at odds with radical opinions inside the Tory party and did not wish to leave it." It is curious at the present moment to find in this essay (dating from 1906) an allusion to a speech of Lord Randolph's in which there is "an allusion drawn between the contention of the Southern States in the American Civil War and the promotion of Irish Home Rule, which, however misleading it may be deemed, is a nervous and powerful specimen of political eloquence."

The Turf

A Rosebery miscellany would lack full flavor if it had no reference to the Turf. We are glad, therefore, to find a speech given at the Gimcrack Club dinner in 1897. Sir does not discuss the Turf in a section of the book that celebrates Eton and Whitehall. Lord Rosebery sees upon the Turf the glimmer of a historic page, and he is not alone. Many gentlemen in spite of his personal pessimism, his realized ambition to win the Derby proved only that in the thought of the Turf there was a place. The Turf was attacked "from quarters of an almost inspired character" for owning racehorses at all. Out of office he and his associates were attacked for being "too sporting" and "too sporting, but because we were not sporting enough." Yet the Turf has its compensations.
